NOW IT'S SIR WINSTON

Churchill Gets Highest Order

LONDON (Reuters) — The Queen today conferred a knighthood on Prime Minister Churchill investing him with the insignia of the Garter. The Order of the Garter is the highest of all the orders of knighthood.

The prime minister will be styled "Sir Winston Churchill, KG."

Churchill thus accepted an honor he declined when it was offered to him by the late King George VI in July, 1945.

At Windsor Castle the Queen formally touched Churchill on the shoulder with a golden sword as he knelt before her. Churchill declined the honor in 1945 because it was an honor

The Political Pot

Total of 3,500 Victorians have used the new registration centres to get their names on the provincial voters' list for the June 9 election.

Half of these are persons who have changed their addresses within the Greater Victoria area in the last year, and the remainder are people who have moved to the city from outside.

Registration centres, which were not busy when they first opened last week, are now reporting more activity.

If the present trend continues, roughly 5,000 persons will have made themselves qualified to vote by the time the voters' list closes April 27.

Liberal leader Arthur Laing, a bitter enemy of coalition, didn't pull any punches at a Vancouver East meeting Wednesday night.

Said he: "In my view the coalition led to the deterioration and eventual death of our political philosophy and resulted in the Social Credit party filling the vacuum."

DOCTOR GETS DRAMATIC RESULT IN DRUNK CURE

LONDON (BUP) — A British doctor tells a quick remedy for drunkenness. . . . He calls the results far more dramatic than he expected. Dr. V. P. Wordsworth — writing in the British Medical Journal — says he has used Vitamin B-6 on patients with good results. He says that in one typical case a drunken woman was brought in who was singing and staggering. He says he injected the vitamin and that she became quiet in three minutes. Wordsworth says the woman apologized for her behavior and said she felt quite sober.

U.S. Secretly Aids French In Indo-China

Moves to Bolster Anti-Red Forces

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has secretly allocated more military aid to Indo-China in a move to bolster French and native forces now trying to stop a new Communist offensive.

Authoritative officials who disclosed this today said, the extra money will go for more American "hardware" — guns, tanks, artillery, planes, ammunition and other military supplies.

The new funds will be turned over to the French and Indo-China states to help finance a French plan for creating 54 new commando battalions during this year to fight against Communists in all areas of Indo-China.

ARRANGED AT TALKS

This plan was outlined to President Eisenhower by French Premier Rene Mayer and his aides during top level talks here three weeks ago.

The specific amount of additional money involved was not disclosed, but officials said it was "substantial."

"With these new arms, which are of a superior type, the Vietnamese is becoming a more and more formidable foe."

He said the number of Chinese "technical advisers" with the Vietnamese forces had risen to about 7,000.

FRESH SETBACK

The general issued his statement as French forces suffered a fresh setback in their efforts to repel the rebel invasion of Laos.

The main landing field on the plain of Jars where a major battle was anticipated became water-logged today, hampering a vital part of the French defense system in central Laos.

The rebels were reported to have almost surrounded French positions on the plain.

HANOI, Indo-China (CP) — The French high command said today Communist China's military aid to Vietnamese rebels in Indo-China has more than doubled in the last two months.

Gen. Raoul Salan, commander-in-chief of French forces in Indo-China, said the Communists are pouring from 2,000 to 3,000 tons of military equipment a month into rebel bastions. Most automatic weapons, he said, are of Czech manufacture but the Chinese ones bear Chinese characters.

Normally, the investiture with the Order of the Garter carries with it a peerage.

The fact that Churchill has received only a knighthood is taken to mean he wishes to remain a member of the House of Commons.

If he were raised to the peerage, he would have to sit in the House of Lords. Although British prime ministers have sat in the Lords in the past, it is regarded as necessary these days to have a prime minister answerable to the Commons.

Woman's 50-Ft. Leap To Escape Fire Fatal

40 Persons Homeless After $100,000 Fire Destroys Vancouver Apartment

VANCOUVER (CP) — Flames forced a 50-year-old nurse into a fatal, 50-foot leap Thursday night as a $100,000 fire ravaged an apartment building in North Vancouver.

Some 40 persons were made homeless and three injured as fire raged out of control for more than two hours in the three-story Mount Crown apartment block, an old wooden building with a brick fronting.

Five men using a piece of canvas as a fire net tried to break the fall of the nurse, Laura Dingwall, but she died after being admitted to the hospital where she worked.

"We didn't quite get under her," said Eric Moxam, one of the men who stretched the canvas above the sidewalk.

Other tenants, mainly those on the lower floors, jumped without mishap.

One woman was admitted to hospital for treatment of burns and shock and another was allowed to go home after medical care.

Caretaker Ed Pirie, who received a gashed forehead, said he believed the blaze started from a smoldering cigarette accidentally wrapped in garbage and thrown down the garbage chute leading into the basement.

The fire was out of control within 10 minutes after it was discovered. Bystanders told how Miss Dingwall first threw her bird cage from her third-room floor apartment and then jumped herself, slamming into the pavement after glancing off the canvas.

2 Survivors Sighted at Plane Wreck

SEATTLE (AP) — Two survivors were sighted today after aerial searches found the wreckage of a missing C-46 transport plane from Florida on a Cascade mountain ridge.

Survival gear and food was being dropped to them while a ground party tried to get to the scene.

Four civilian airmen were aboard the plane when it vanished on a flight across the mountains to Seattle early Thursday to pick up soldiers arriving from the Far East. All four were Florida-based pilots for the airline, American Air Transport, Inc.

EGYPT READY TO PROCLAIM RELIGIOUS WAR

CAIRO, Egypt (UP) — Egypt's Premier Gen. Mohammed Naguib said Thursday night his nation is ready to proclaim a "jihad" (religious war or crusade) unless British forces leave the Suez canal zone.

"We will proclaim jihad if necessary for the sake of freedom and independence," Naguib said in an address to military trainees. "It is the duty of all citizens, regardless of age and sex, to be ready to sacrifice."

Truce Talks Start Delayed Until Sunday

Second Canadian PW Repatriated

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP) — The Communists returned another 100 Allied soldiers today, including Pte. Arthur J. Baker of Montreal, and the United Nations proposed that the exchange of ailing prisoners be continued until the Korean war ends.

At the request of the Communists, the resumption of full-scale armistice talks, scheduled for Saturday, was postponed until 1 p.m. Sunday.

BOTH SIDES AGREE

Both sides have agreed to deliver more prisoners than they first promised under the current exchange agreement.

The U.N. proposal to continue the exchange for the duration of the war will test the truth or falsity of the Communists' claim that they now mean to return "all" sick and wounded prisoners in their hands.

Pte. Baker, the second Canadian soldier to be freed in the exchange, was a sick and wounded man—a haggard and weary soldier. He said he had spent the entire 17 months of captivity in Chinese hospitals for treatment to hand and foot wounds caused by mortars and grenades.

100 MORE SATURDAY

The Communists promised to return another 100 Allied PWs Saturday.

Forty Americans who passed through Freedom Village today told of the death of more than 743 Americans on forced marches or in prison camps in North Korea.

It brought to nearly 3,000 the total of UN prisoners reported dead as the result of Communist brutality.

New B.C. Hospital

OTTAWA (CP) — A federal grant of $345,000 will help build a hospital for mental patients with tuberculosis at Escondido, B.C. It was announced today. Construction of the 230-bed hospital is scheduled to begin in May and will take about 18 months to complete.

EXTRA CLUES PROVIDED FOR $125 CROSSWORD

Still looking for a winner in the Times crosswords contest, the judges today announced a slight modification in the rules.

Last week it was decided to allow facsimiles in unlimited numbers.

Under the new rules only 10 facsimiles will be allowed with each original entry.

But as a help to contestants the judges are printing the alternates that may be used in reply to some of the tricky definitions. The problem is to study the fine shades of meaning in the definition to get the right answer.

Once again the judges are asking contestants to clip their entries along the dotted line of the form. This makes their job much easier in tallying.

Puzzle No. 5 appears on Page 7. It is worth $125.

Announces Candidacy

Entering the provincial election scene today is Mayor Claude Harrison, pictured in his familiar blue cape, who announced he would run as an independent in Victoria.

U.K. Paper Urges U.S. Beware Atrocity Tales

American Public Mind Being Poisoned? 'Who Would Try Whom for Crimes?' Mirror Asks

LONDON (Reuters) — The Daily Mirror says today the American public mind is being "poisoned" by hate propaganda arising from atrocity stories told by returning Allied prisoners of war in Korea.

Under the front-page headline "Atrocities or Bunk?" the news paper appeals for moderation in the public outcry until atrocities have been checked.

"Angry politicians—no doubt themselves misled—are stirring the brew," an editorial says. " . . . we beg U.S. politicians to reflect upon the tragic harm that a slanging match could do."

The Mirror said that atrocities occur in every war but "cruelty has not been a system" in North Korean camps.

"U.S. politicians should understand," it said, "that they cannot lay down victor's terms. There is no victory. There is no unconditional surrender. Who would try whom for war crimes?"

"What is aimed at is peace by agreement. Hate propaganda does no good except perhaps prolong the fighting and bring about more atrocities."

WASHINGTON (UP) — Anxious Congressional leaders today were trying to hold the lid on proposed investigations of Korean atrocities for fear more loss of Allied lives would result.

It was learned they took this course on advice of top military authorities, who warned that wartime publicity on atrocities in the past usually has provoked more of the same.

There was some feeling that too much already had been said.

New Municipal Deal Mayor's Chief Plank

By AILEEN CAMPBELL

Mayor Claude L. Harrison announced today he will be an independent candidate in Victoria at the forthcoming provincial election.

A new deal for municipal bodies will be a chief plank in the mayor's platform.

"Something has to be done for the municipalities—they are being impoverished by provincial and federal governments," Mayor Harrison stated. "The municipalities must have the help they are entitled to."

"We cannot do the things we should do. We cannot keep the proper standard of Canadian life from a municipal point of view."

The mayor, whose name has been largely linked with the Social Credit movement here in past months, said Social Credit would get his full support "when it is right."

"I have given some study to the Social Credit financial structure but have not fathomed it yet," he said.

"However I see they are apparently moving in the right direction. Their legislation shows that. They are trying to help out the municipalities."

Publicly he has spoken favorably of the Social Credit government. On several occasions he has stated flatly the government was not given "a fair chance" and should be given one.

"I affirm this now," he said today.

He felt that he knows Victoria and its needs and might be of help to whatever party is elected to office.

At the same time, he insisted, it was not his place to "intrude" on the party, unless at the express invitation of members of the government. He is not a member of the SC party.

Mayor Harrison said he had "been pressed heavily for months to take this course."

"I feel in view of the people's wishes and my promises, I feel it is a positive duty that I place my name before the electorate. That being so I am not going to shrink that duty."

He referred to his first definite announcement that he would enter the provincial field many months ago at Sooke.

Always an enthusiastic backer of greater Vancouver Island, as well as Victoria, development, the mayor in his inaugural address urged his council colleagues to enter the provincial field, as a means of "helping out Victoria."

At a Chamber of Commerce installation ceremony in the Empress Hotel at noon he told

new officers "not to be afraid to deal with politics."

"A large part of our city's troubles today stem from the fact that they have not taken part in politics," the mayor said. "The whole picture of the country's economy and development is linked together, like a great chain."

Discussing the financial plight of municipalities, the mayor said the federal government takes over 70 per cent of the tax revenues and the provincial government, 19.

Of a total budget of over $7,000,000, the city of Victoria has $4,698,000 in such uncontrollable items as education costs, debt charges and wages, he said. The city council can control fully about 5 per cent of its total budget, he added.

He has been making news here since the day he announced his candidacy for the mayoralty August 25, 1951 on an "open door" policy at City Hall.

He was for 40 years city prosecutor, until his retirement Sept. 30. He was elected mayor December 13, 1951.

The fight he showed in his vigorous campaign for mayor when he beat out two other prominent Victorians—Dr. J. D. Hunter and Col. Aubrey Kent—has been displayed many times in Council chamber.

He has battled some of his aldermen to a verbal standstill on issues he felt were not being dealt with correctly or legally. "Is it legal" and "put it in writing" have become standard City Hall quips.

He and Ald. Waldo Skillings, long known as a municipal firebrand, have argued procedure and savagery of the murders beggars the power of words."

Said the judge: "The bestiality and savagery of the murders beggars the power of words."

JUNE 8 ELECTION SET IN MANITOBA

Socreds and Tories to Contest Every Seat; No Coalition Candidates

WINNIPEG (CP) — Premier D. L. Campbell today announced a provincial election will be held June 8.

Nomination day will be May 25.

The election falls between two other provincial votes previously announced—Nova Scotia on May 26 and British Columbia June 9.

Voting in the northern riding of Rupert's Land will be deferred until July 6 with nomination day June 22.

The Campbell administration was returned to office in November, 1949, as a coalition of Liberal Progressives, Progressive Conservatives and others, totalling 43 of the 57-member House.

That arrangement broke up in October, 1950. Erick F. Willis, veteran leader of the Progressive Conservatives, who had been deputy premier, resigned from the cabinet. The party convention followed his lead in withdrawing from the coalition.

TORIES SPLIT

The move split Conservative ranks. Two cabinet ministers, two others and an independent continued to support the government, and are still listed as "Coalition" members.

At dissolution, the standing was: Liberal Progressive 30, Coalition 5, Progressive Conservative 9, CCF 7, Independent 1, Labor Progressive 1, vacant 4. Total 57. The five Coalition members support the government.

In contrast with the last three general elections in which large numbers were acclaimed, a contest is assured this year in every riding. In 1949, the government was virtually assured of re-election on nomination day.

THEY'LL FIGHT

This year, the Progressive Conservative and Social Credit parties have announced they will contest every seat. Social Credit had no representatives in the last House but previously held as many as five seats and one Coalition cabinet post.

Premier Campbell, who will lead the Liberal, Progressive campaign, has been a member of the legislature for more than 30 years and a cabinet minister for 17. He was named to succeed Stuart Garson in 1948 when Mr. Garson joined the federal cabinet.

Howe Admits Scrap Iron Sent to Japan

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister Howe told the Commons today he was in error when he stated Thursday night that no scrap iron has been shipped to Japan.

Actually, he said, there have been shipments licensed amounting to nearly 5,000 tons since January.

The minister recalled he had told a member there had been no shipments but he had since found that he had "overlooked the special problem" regarding scrap in British Columbia.

Cast-iron scrap is in surplus supply in that province, the minister said, and since January the government has licensed for shipment to Japan 3,650 tons of scrap iron, 325 tons of railway car axles and 1,000 tons of small cuttings and shearings. Shipment of scrap beyond North American shores is under strict control.

Adenauer told a press conference he had a right to go ahead and make the treaties law because:

1. The popularly-elected Lower House approved them in full.
2. The main sections do not require approval by the Upper House anyway. He will hold back two sections which do require its approval. These deal with financial support for the troops.

The Bundesrat voted delay as ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization met in Paris and urged early ratification.

Coldwell Asks Questions Concerning Lunam Case

OTTAWA (CP)—M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, put two questions on the Commons order paper today about the Lunam case.

He asked for statements about payment to sub-contractors in connection with government contracts awarded to the Lunam Construction Company of Regina and for copies of progress reports by government architects in connection with the same contracts.

REGINA (CP)—Austin E. Dewar (L. Qu'Appelle) said Thursday night that he will make a statement in the House of Commons early next week concerning his dealings with Harvey Lunam, Regina contractor.

In an interview here, Mr. Dewar said he had with him cheques totalling $22,008, which he said were part of his dealings with Mr. Lunam in November, 1950, with Mr. Lunam. He also said he had cheques totalling $31,500 which he showed the Regina Leader-Post Wednesday.

In a copyrighted story Wednesday, the Toronto Telegram said Mr. Dewar had received cheques totalling $71,800 from the Harvey Lunam Construction Company in November, 1950.

Mr. Dewar said he and Mr. Lunam had "exchanged cheques" in November, 1950, to help Mr. Lunam when he was in financial difficulty.

Mr. Lunam said the Telegram told "only half the story."

Mr. Dewar said that in view of the statement made by Prime

BONNER IN OTTAWA APRIL 30

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Garson said today in response to a question from H. W. Herridge (CCF, Kootenay-West), Attorney-General Bonner of British Columbia is coming to Ottawa April 30 and may want to discuss the activities of the fanatical Sons of Freedom Doukhobor sect.

MILK PRICE DECONTROL TO BE DELAYED

CHILLIWACK, B.C. (CP)—Decontrol of milk prices will not take effect May 1, Agricultural Minister Kenneth Kiernan said Thursday.

All details of decontrol have not yet been worked out, he said, and when these have been completed producers will be given two weeks' notice of the effective date.

Mr. Kiernan is confined to his home here on doctor's orders. The nature of his illness was not disclosed.

Grain Workers Agree to Cut Pay Demands

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Members of the CIO Grain Workers' Union, on strike for 68 days against five elevator terminal companies at Vancouver and New Westminster for higher wages, have offered to cut their pay increase demands.

R. H. Tupper, spokesman for the elevator companies, said the operators were studying the proposal, received Thursday in a letter from E. C. Sims, international representative of the union. The 279 men walked out on strike Feb. 15 to back up their demands for a 12½-cent an hour pay increase. The companies have insisted on a renewal of the 1952 rate of $1.50 an hour.

Tupper said Sim's proposal was for a 7½-cent an hour pay increase, with the union also willing to drop demands for payment of a dust premium if the companies would agree to four other fringe benefits.

Stowaway Killed in Air Crash

SEATTLE (AP)—The Washington state patrol said Thursday night that the body of a man had been found near the charred wreckage of a four-engine United States Air Force air freighter which crashed into a hillside after it was abandoned by its listed crew of 10.

The patrol report identified the dead man as Roger D. Rondeau, 27, a Boeing Airplane Co. worker, but his presence aboard could not be explained. The men who parachuted said they did not know Rondeau was on the craft, which developed control trouble after taking off on a test flight from Seattle's Boeing field.

Boeing Airplane Co. officials said Rondeau was a pre-flight mechanic and "apparently was an unauthorized passenger on the flight whose presence was unknown to the crew." He lived in Seattle.

UN Forces Turn Back 14 Red Attacks

SEOUL, Korea (UP)—United Nations forces turned back 14 separate Communist attacks on the battlefield today in a day of air-ground action.

The ground war flamed as the Reds launched the highest number of assaults since March 27, ranging from the Panmunjom truce vicinity to the rugged Punchbowl area in the east. They failed to take a single position.

B-29-Superforts and B-26 light bombers droned over North Korean targets during the night to wreck an airfield and devastate a troop and supply centre at Hungnam on the northeast Korean coast.

Splitting into two groups, the B-29s dropped 140 tons of explosives on adjacent targets containing 140 buildings that housed war material awaiting rail shipment to the front.

'Firebugs and Criminals'

IF THE WORDS OF STEFAN S. Sorokin, spiritual leader of the Sons of Freedom, relayed from Uruguay to his followers in British Columbia, mean anything at all, they represent a call for direct action against arsonists and others who violate the law.

That is implied in his suggestion that the consultative committee on Doukhobor affairs "look into the matter and legally put an end to this stupid game."

It is a great deal easier to make the suggestion than to carry it out. There is no law against a person burning down his own house, provided he does not do it for fraudulent purposes. And it is a recognized fact that arson is one of the more difficult crimes to detect.

At the same time Sorokin has implied a division between the sheep and the goats among the ranks of Sons of Freedom. He speaks on the one hand of "peaceful toilers," on the other of "firebugs and criminals." As the affirmed spiritual leader sees it, there are the two classes. By inference he sees no grounds for sympathy between the "good" Doukhobors and those who are wilfully anti-social and unlawful in their acts.

That differentiation should be of some assistance in handling violence in the communities now. On other occasions, veteran police officers report, "good" Doukhobors have been inclined to be more Doukhobor than "good" when efforts were made to trace down malefactors.

Sorokin's statement clearly lists the wrong-doers as "firebugs and criminals." It is reasonable to suppose that members of the sect should accept his definition. A show of co-operation from them would be welcomed by other British Columbians whose patience has worn thin in previous years and who no longer are prepared to submit to terrorism no matter how plausibly its expression is related to spiritual belief.

Arsonists and illegal dynamiters are criminals regardless of faith or persuasion. They should be pursued as relentlessly as any other criminals and, once convicted, should serve out their terms.

The Sons' own spiritual leader has drawn the line. It is one to which the authorities should hew and which should be recognized by the "peaceful toilers."

Astronomical, but Real

IT HAS BECOME ALMOST COMMONPLACE for British Columbians to think in astronomical figures of the money being invested in their future. This province has been well in the front ranks of the great industrial development Canada as a whole is undergoing.

Capital expenditures in B.C. in 1951, for instance—that is, money invested in new construction, machinery and equipment—reached a total of $726 millions. Preliminary figures for 1952, prepared by the federal department of trade and commerce and the Dominion bureau of statistics, show an even larger total of $815 millions.

But the same experts predict that 1953 will exceed even this all-time high. The estimated total of capital expenditures for the current year is set at $868 millions, an increase of eight per cent. This is the British Columbia share of the $7,464 millions estimated for the whole of Canada.

The cold figures give little indication of the reality of this development. The statistical comparison is important, but for the British Columbia resident the totals will come alive in a different way.

They will be seen in the new factory down the street, the new pulp mill over the hill, the new hydro-electric plant in the valley, the new townships arising beside new industries. They will be seen by reflection, too, in the new jobs opening, the new payrolls, the new homes established, the new prosperity.

On that basis the figures portray only a fraction of the effect the Canadian boom is having. Extended to their ultimate results the millions become billions.

Why the Bookmobile Hitch?

LAST YEAR PUBLIC LIBRARY authorities in this community announced with satisfaction that their hopes of starting a bookmobile service appeared near realization. Plans proceeded with a view to acquiring the required vehicle and arrangements were drawn up to furnish service in outlying areas.

The old problem of taking good reading matter to the public instead of making the public come to good reading material—when the latter process was inconvenient in the extreme—appeared to be on the way to solution.

The bookmobile seemed to have many advantages, not the least of them being the ability to supply the public with a higher class literary diet than it can find in currently popular paperback books.

For this and other reasons the Victoria Times has supported the plan for the library on wheels.

Early this year the project was attacked by Mayor Harrison on legal grounds. Now comes word that certain Saanich councillors are opposed to the bookmobile. Those reports may be erroneous, but they have persisted to an extent which has caused the library board to delay acquisition of the bookmobile.

Saanich council members have been asked by organizations in the municipality to state their position on the bookmobile. They have been asked to stand up and be counted for or against the scheme.

The public of this entire community—or at least that section interested in seeing distribution of good books extended over as wide an area as possible—is entitled to know why the scheme is opposed, whether opposition springs from prejudice or has legitimate grounds, and why the library board has been led to believe that its effort to encourage good reading does not claim the support that might be expected.

New Twist in Racism

BECAUSE IT WAS THE MUSICAL badge of the Nazis the free world's antipathy to the "Horst Wessel" song is easily understood. According to the authorities, it wasn't good music in the first place, and in the second it typified adherents of a philosophy repugnant to decent men.

It is more difficult to justify the attitude of the fanatical Israeli who vented his spleen on German music, unwelcome as it may be to the Jews, by injuring the hand of violinist Jascha Heifetz because that distinguished artist had played a sonata by Richard Strauss.

Concert repertoires, particularly those of the older lands, would be restricted to the point of poverty if they excluded the works of any alien composer with whose nation their country had been in conflict at some time or another. And it seems as childish as calling "sauerkraut" "Liberty cabbage" to heap upon the dead and probably innocent writer of songs the nationalist hatreds of today.

Israel may justify its dislike of things German on the basis of inhuman treatment accorded Jews by citizens of the Reich. But it loses something when even one of its people carries that resentment to the extent of injuring a musician whose transcendent abilities have given joy to thousands—and who happens to believe that Richard Strauss selections merit a place on his programs.

O for the Life of a Sailor

THESE SPRING DAYS, WHEN work tends to become an effort, the mind often strays to thoughts of the ideal job. Refrigerator salesman at the North Pole, butcher in a vegetarian restaurant, caddy on a putting green, janitor for a phone booth—the occupations better than the one you're stuck with seem endless.

But most of them are imaginary, impossible to realize. It is only occasionally that life turns up a real one along these lines.

Such a job is that now revealed by the head of Ceylon's entire navy—a Lieutenant Commander who is skipper of that country's only warship, a mine sweeper. Arriving in England for a refit with his ship and crew of 85, the commander learned that it would take months to put the vessel in shape. He therefore told his officers and men to take up residence ashore and find civilian employment. He himself will remain aboard the ship, "enjoy the peace and quiet, and write a book."

There you have it: skipper of a ship that will be tied up for months, with nothing to do and all day to do it, no rent to pay, and perhaps a chance to run up to the Coronation.

The only thing that worries us is the mention of that book, but he should have little trouble in putting that off till it's too late to attempt it. Many a prospective author has done the same under much less conducive conditions.

Now to Hatch the Real Tough Egg

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

I HAVEN'T been very good lately about answers to Correspondents. The mail is piling up unmercifully. Here are a few samples, addressed to me in my different capacities:

"Dear Aunt Brock, PhD: I was planning a party for a few friends, with bridge and canasta thrown in. How should I tell them I don't want to see them after all? If they do show up, could I leave the house myself? And when I go, should I leave the house clockwise or anti-clockwise?"

Yours, PERTURBED.

Well, Perturbed, I think you have this situation upside-down. Would it not be better to stop asking people in the first place? Then the grocer would know where he was, and so would you and your chums. But since you have given in to your mad whims, cheer up. Bridge and canasta aren't everything. Why not shoot craps? One needn't be a good shot.

A SOMEWHAT similar letter has arrived:

"Dear Friendly Counsellor: People keep piling on me. Is there some way people can have fewer children of their own and fewer friends of somebody else's? Yours, SATIATED."

Yes, Satiated, there is a remedy, at least so far as your home defenses are concerned. Write for my Booklet X vs. Y. Why don't you try to become more unpopular? It is easy, once you get into the swing of it. Anybody can make people like him, and you have been taking this lazy "out." As a result, you are subconsciously losing your self-respect. Life is real, life is earnest, and any man or woman worthy of the name can be unpopular, once the first step is taken. You need gumption. I sell gumption. What are we waiting for? Enroll at once.

THEN there is a letter on the medical side (with which I combine my advice on how to stop eating and pine away):

"Dear Brock H. David, MD: Daylight-saving time will soon be here. How does this affect morning sickness? Yours PUNCTUAL."

Dear Punctual, as you omit to mention your rank, I am taking the liberty of assuming you are a commoner. They say punctuality is the courtesy of kings, which should let you out. (Judges are very fond of saying this to counsel who are late. The fallacy here being that neither a judge nor a lawyer is really a monarch after all.) If you insist on being slave to a timepiece, why not buy a sundial? A sundial is a most soothing thing, not only on cloudy days but when you remember that it has almost certainly been set up wrong.

WELCOME, WELCOME

THAT takes care of enough correspondence addressed directly to me. I shall now deal with a more impersonal message I received lately. It is "An Invitation" from the Washington Motor Hotel Association, printed in a guide to auto courts and resorts. I plan to accept that invitation this summer, if various B.C. tourist groups aren't looking. I haven't been in the U.S.A. for 16 years, and I bet you have, so betray that moralizing on the Balance of Tourist Trade, will you? Thanks.

But the invitation, after telling me "Washington State, It's Cool, It's Green, It's Great," proceeds to cool me off in a great way and even make me feel rather green. To help me have a pleasant trip (it says) it suggests I comply with their laws down yonder. I'm eager to, I'm plumb greedy to, but when it says that statistics reveal that I (as a guest) am responsible for 7 per cent of their accidents and 10 per cent of their fatal ones, I get scared. Not just through guilt, either, but thinking of my own personal future.

AFTER telling me about the ways I can go to jail or into the next world, the invitation reminds me that I'm probably passing people on the wrong side. Now, scaring the daylight out of me, or out of anyone else, is prudent enough. Highways in Washington or anywhere else, are roads of doom. Only, they forget what a timid bloke poor Dave is. They don't know he is no longer in the mood for this sinister promise: "We will do everything possible to make your vacation one you will never forget." Gosh, I can't forget it right now, and I haven't even started it yet.

BLUNDER

STARTED it yet? In a way I have. Through my own fault. My wife asked where one can see good gentians around here, and I said I remembered lovely ones in great profusion on Mount Rainier, many years ago, and she said "Fine, that's where we'll drive this August." Ever since then she has been showing maps and things at me. It is a common experience . . . so common that even the funny papers have got it more or less accurately. But I should think not many husbands are subjected to high-pressure stuff, four months in advance, on the strength of an idle remark about an innocent little blue gentian.

MY wife says we'll stay among the gentians for a long time and get really rested up. I say this is folly . . . I like her to start for home while she's still tired out. We get home straighter and quicker that way. Otherwise, we're apt to head north again via the east or south, and take a short-cut through Mexico, New Orleans, and Chicago.

When I made this mild objection, she said "Well, I did think we might take the Windermere-Banff route home." It's this over-simplification, this airy confidence, this . . . well, if anyone knows some bad news about the present decline of the gentians at Mount Rainier, he should write to me at once and I will hear something to my advantage.

April 24, 1913—Prospects for the Bees, Victoria entry in the Northwestern Baseball League were declared bright as opening day loomed.

As Our Readers See It

FIVE OR SIX?

Phyllis L. Sherman's solution for the five-day week for store employees is much appreciated. It is not only the employees to be considered, the retail merchant has a large operating expense to do business. I think it is time the public gave the merchant some consideration. We, the public, think little of asking stores to open six days a week, adding cost of operation, then we complain when they raise the price of merchandise to meet this added expense.

As for the bus operations, the transportation company is in business for a profit—when the profit is down they either increase the fare or cut down on service. This would apply to retail stores.

As for Monday or Wednesday closing, I don't think it matters what day, but Saturday being the best business day of the week stores need all the staff on duty.

A recent polling of merchants definitely proves the six-day week was very much in the minority.

CAGED

The approach of the summer season brings to mind the fact that the circus and other traveling animal shows will soon be on the road again. Those who care for animals are asked to give a thought to the pitiable existence of those who have to take part as they travel continuously through the heat of summer, deprived of sunshine, fresh air, and all that makes life worth living.

The life of a circus animal has been described as follows: Being forcibly removed from "kindred and country, to spend hours or days on boats or trains, cramped in a cage hardly larger than itself, having to live in that cage all its life, except while performing unnatural tricks; being beaten, pricked or starved until it learns the tricks; being carried past forests and fields over which it may not roam; living in constant fear and unable to voice its woes.

This applies to animals in traveling menageries also, except that they may never leave their cages and have not been through the training necessary to make them perform tricks.

Anyone who would like to join in trying to help these animals is invited to write to the Honorable Secretary, the Performing and Caged Animals' Protection League, P.O. Box 391, Vancouver, B.C. G. M. WEBSTER, Honorary Secretary.

Thursday Was His Day

Shakespeare's birthday—I scan the front page of my morning paper—the day, too, of poor Will's death—and not the smallest mention of either. A little about fish, something of television, ammunition, a crazed man, and a good deal about "Fast Time."

Fast time, indeed; Too fast! Time hurrying away from the greatest days in history. My thoughts turn towards a little village in Warwickshire, the deepest deep of England, and the words from the "Tempest" with which Will closed his life:

"We are such stuff
As dreams are made on, and our little life
Is rounded with a sleep."

How shall I, who have never seen the Old Land, reprove, gentle, unpretentious Victoria, the only place left in all Canada where a man can do a bit of gracious living? How shall I, the son of my Loyalist strains, and whose ancestors landed in America just four short years after Will's demise, a native Canadian, if there ever was one, ask the many British people in our city, to turn back to their glorious traditions and find the strength and vigour of their mighty past, even here, 6,000 miles further west and 350 years—shall I say "faster" instead of "later."

Here has been raging, lately, a great educational controversy between the pet and shallow "Deveism" that has a stranglehold on our schools, and those who know like gentle Will, what we "are made on." I say to each and every one of you who read this, Which way are you looking? Some day your children may have cause to wonder. Will you mess around among the stupidities of "child psychology" and "scientific education," or will you nurture them on the rich and genuine spiritual soil of our beginnings? Will you give them inspiration and character? We are at the crossroads.

Civil Defense Rehearsal

The volunteer staff of the local civil defense under Mr. L. G. Hatcher, who manned and put on the realistic exercise on Thursday, April 16, at the armory are to be congratulated and thanked for giving their time and energy. Horrible wounds and injuries were very well made up and the patients all acted their parts well.

The staff showed steady nerves in dealing so naturally with each case, walking or stretcher. One good lady was suffering from great shock and it required three men to hold her. What a fine actress she was.

Many children wandered in realistically and had to be directed as well. The doctors, nurses and orderlies worked well in teams and the director is to be congratulated on the fine effect. It should be remembered that a number of the wardens had already attended basic training classes, so that they could realize the destruction caused by the explosion from which all the cases came.

Nearly all the staff were home owners themselves, hence they were setting an example to each of the spectators, to offer themselves for training, so as to be prepared and be filled with the quiet confidence so necessary to prevent panic.

For with adequate training and preparation there is nothing to be feared from any attack. A city can have a disaster without a bomb attack, and the only safe job is for every one to be prepared to meet it. A disaster is no respecter of persons or social position, the house owners on each street will have to help those struck down near to them.

The work of a warden is important, interesting and quite within the powers of Mr. John Citizen. One gets confidence by being trained in knowing what to do and how to do it. We have much equipment now and trained instructors, who are up to date with the latest experience from Europe and the United States. The city, Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt are already divided into sectors, each under a sector warden, and he has his wardens under him.

A warden has to know the position of the water, gas and electric mains, also the number and skill of every person in each house in his area. He has to be the leader and to give confidence to all people, and have a record of what special equipment is in each house. This is like a forest fire, when every one has to join in to fight for their lives. There is also a way of making a room safe in each house, generally in the basement. So it is up to every man or woman house owner to be trained.

Many Objectives, Few Policies

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

WE HAVE learned to realize in two world wars that the doctrine of unconditional surrender makes wars infinitely destructive and peace virtually impossible. Therefore it is important that in his recent speech the President told the Communist governments that he was not challenging their existence but their imperial expansion, that the fundamental condition of an accommodation between the two worlds was not a counter-revolution but a withdrawal from the new empire to their legitimate limits. The President did not deliver an ultimatum demanding this withdrawal of empire. He did say, as he was bound to say, that without the withdrawal, a general accommodation cannot be worked out. At the worst this must mean, he said, atomic war. At the best it can mean only the indefinite continuation of a cruel and destructive cold war.

A good general, it was said long ago, when he lays siege to a town, should not invest it so tightly that the garrison within the walls could not come out some dark night and march away. This wise and worldly rule is just about the essential idea of what is now called political warfare, of what formerly was known as statesmanship.

When we turn to specific issues, my own feeling is that the administration is not nearly adequately prepared to carry on the negotiation which the President said should be undertaken. Once again we find ourselves long on objectives and short on policies, plans and measures for getting to the objectives. This has been the chronic weakness of American foreign policy throughout the twentieth century.

Now, because the State Department is for all practical purposes of grand strategy and grand statesmanship paralyzed with fear and uncertainty, the weakness is worse than it ever was. The President, to take the first instance, said that after an armistice there should be the prompt initiation of political discussions leading to the holding of free elections in a united Korea." There will have to be a lot of thought and work done on that before it will be prudent to begin those discussions.

The real question is not whether Korea should be unified. It is: who is going to unify it?

There is a great deal more preparatory work to be done before we can make good our pledge to the French not to forget their war while we settle our own. The President mentioned Indo-China but three little light upon it. No doubt Peiping and Moscow have great influence on the Communists, and can exert heavy pressure if they cut off supplies. But is there any likelihood of their doing that unless in Indo-China as in Korea there is to be a negotiated armistice?

WISELY VAGUE

What the President said about Europe was vague, prudently and wisely vague. For there does not exist any plan, which is remotely near agreement, for making the transition from the divided Europe we now have to the undivided Europe which the President was talking about.

All that he could say on that, the critical point, was to suggest that "a broader European community" will have to be "fostered." That is surely true. But he might well have said that before it can be fostered, it must be born—and that before it can be born, it will have to be conceived. So far, however, there is not much more than a flirtation, perhaps only a day dream.

Yet there is not much time to lose in working out the idea of that broader community in which Germany, and therefore Europe, would not be divided by the armies of occupation. For in seizing the "initiative," as he has, the President may find that he has initiated discussions and negotiations of the greatest complexity and consequence.

SETTING OUT

In the weighing of anchor and the taking of adventure and of the sea there is an exact parallel to anything that any man can do in the beginning of any human thing, from his momentous setting out upon his life in early manhood to the least decision of his present passing day. It is a very proper emblem of a beginning. . . . But the whole point of weighing anchor is that he has chosen his weather and his tide, and that he is setting out. The thing is done.

ARRIVAL OF HEARSE MARKS FINAL ACT OF PRANKSTER

VANCOUVER (CP) — A prankster turned in a false fire alarm and a false report of a man being shot in the home of a CBC official. For a climax, he sent a hearse to the same house, police reported Thursday.

Kenneth Cople, regional director for the CBC, said the hearse was sent to his home late Monday—several hours after the false alarms.

Interest Lag Loses Kiddies' Playing Field

Parents at Fault,
Authorities State

Over 50 children in the Douglas-Cloverdale district will be without a playground this summer because parents in the area did not take sufficient interest in their Oak Street playground, Saanich Recreation Council reported today.

The council said the playground has been closed because six members of a committee which supervised playground activities had resigned due to the lack of assistance from parents.

The remaining 14 parks in Saanich will be reopened this summer, the council said. The playgrounds will be supervised from July 6 to Aug. 16 inclusive, with a five-hour program of sports, games and handicrafts from children, from Monday to Friday.

Frank Brown, president of the council, pointed out that the playgrounds are community projects.

"Saanich taxes helped develop these parks," he said, "but it is the support, in time and work, by Saanich parents that will make these parks successful," he said.

Mr. Brown reported that the council had received from the municipality a sum of $2,243 to be used to provide a supervisor for each park and a sports organizer to co-ordinate inter-playground leagues.

The parks will also be provided with additional equipment for children, he said. Each playground has received an allocation of $200 for equipment and development of the parks.

Entry Into Germany Easy for Canadians

Entry of Canadians into the Federal Republic of Germany will be facilitated by new visa regulations, to be effective May 1, the consulate in Vancouver announced today.

Under a new agreement between Canada and Germany, Canadian citizens who intend to enter the Federal Republic of Germany, including the Western sectors of Berlin, as well as in possession of a valid Canadian passport, may visit for a period not exceeding three consecutive months, without having a German visa prior to their entry.

Shooting War Threatens if Douks Riot

APPLEDALE, B.C. (BUP)—Frightened and angry residents of the Slokan Valley armed themselves with shotguns and rifles today and threatened "a shooting war" against fanatical Sons of Freedom Doukhobors if the sect goes on another home-burning rampage.

Night patrols were organized to guard the homes of non-Doukhobors against possible arson raids. Flashlight beams were ordered trained on all cars rolling through the valley after dark.

Walter W. Wait, veteran non-Doukhobor resident of the valley, told the British United Press the situation "has brought the valley to the point where residents will shoot at anything suspicious around their property by night."

Wait said Slokan Valley residents gave notice that if the government did not take action by April 27 the residents "would draft their own solution. Even Doukhobors who are not Sons of Freedom are guarding their homes. It is only the fanatical Sons of Freedom who sleep securely at night."

'City at Work' Movie to Tell Victoria Story

Amateur Cameras
Tackle Big Task

A film dealing with a cross-section of industrial and business activities in Greater Victoria will be produced by Victoria Amateur Movie Club in the next few months.

To be titled "A City at Work" the production will be a 30-minute 16 mm movie and a non-profit venture on the club's part, according to J. Fawcett, club publicity director.

Several local industries will co-operate with the club in the project. Expected to be completed by fall, the film will be made available to the public through schools, societies and business organizations. If suitable, it may also be offered for local publicity use, including TV.

Plans are also under way for production of a "Craftsman Series" film, dealing with the carving of Indian ceremonial masks by Mungo Martin at Thunderbird Park.

A previous film in the series, "The Story of a Georgian Coffee Pot," was made at a local silversmith's shop and won honorable mention in the 1950 Canadian Film Awards contest.

Arrangements for producing the films will be discussed at a meeting Tuesday night at 8 in National Film Board rooms.

Canadians Buy Record Number of New Autos

OTTAWA (BUP)—Canadians spent more on new cars in 1952 than in any previous year, the Bureau of Statistics said today. The total was $1,002,615,841—the retail value of 400,777 passenger cars and commercial vehicles sold during the year.

Financed sales of both new and used cars and trucks also exceeded any previous year, the bureau said. The average retail value of new passenger cars bought by Canadians during the year was $2,483, compared with an average of $2,478 in 1951.

Quebec Father Admits Murdering 4 Children

QUEBEC CITY (BUP) — A 45-year-old father confessed early today that he hacked his four children to death with an axe killed in an automobile crash and police clamped a blackout on the crime "because of its ghastliness."

George Herbert, who described himself as a "free-lance contractor," was booked as a material witness and jailed at provincial police headquarters. A spokesman said he would be arraigned on a murder charge following a coroner's inquest tonight.

Herbert's wife, the mother of the children, also was held as a material witness.

"He confessed shortly after midnight, and it's the most gruesome case I've worked on in my 20 years on the force," said Capt. J. A. Matte, chief of the criminal investigation branch.

He said Solicitor-General Antoine Rivard had ordered a blackout on all details of the case.

"Until we have all the facts we won't have anything more to say because of the ghastliness of the crime," Matte said.

All the children had been dismembered almost beyond recognition. They were Rene Herbert, aged nine; Louise, seven; Nicole, five, and Gaetan, 3½.

The bodies of the youngsters were found in the bedroom of the Herberts' three-room flat after an employee of under-

TV Ready For Federal Vote Speeches

OTTAWA (BUP) — Canadian politicians will have the opportunity—or ordeal—of campaigning by television for the next general election.

Chairman A. D. Dunton of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation board of governors, told the Commons radio committee that aspirants for office won't be able to "ham it up" in their video ventures.

But he said the CBC planned meetings with party representatives soon to work out plans for putting the vote chasers on Canadian TV screens.

Canadians in Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa areas will have a chance to see if they like the looks of their would-be representative.

Dunton admitted that it might be difficult to frame regulations to cover political telecasts because of the many ways in which drama can be injected into a television show. He said the main problem to be worked out was a "fair division of time" among the various parties.

QUICK GLIMPSE OF FILM BRINGS SWIFT DISASTER

Just for a moment, Glen A. Sheane, 135 Bushby, took his eyes off the road. His car was wrecked and he was thrown clear, 33 feet through the air, into some bushes.

He told Magistrate Henry Hall in Saanich court Thursday he had snatched a glimpse of a film showing at Tillikum outdoor theatre as he was driving past.

His car hit a pole, careened another 60 feet, and Sheane was badly bumped when flung free.

Sequel was a $50 fine for dangerous driving and a three months' license suspension.

Policeman Foils Suicide of 217

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — State highway patrolman James Morgan took a look at his private records today and figured that in the last nine years he had prevented 217 persons from "ending it all" by jumping off the Golden Gate bridge.

Number 217 was Mrs. Sharon Stettner, 31, South Palo Alto, Calif., who tried to dive over the bridge railing Thursday. Morgan caught her as she attempted to climb over the ocean side of the bridge railing. She was booked on a charge of attempted suicide.

Morgan started keeping his record when he was assigned to duty on the bridge nine years ago.

Debt of Gratitude Owed British, Clergyman Claims

Traditional roast beef and Yorkshire pudding was shared by the Victoria branch of the Royal Society of St. George at Terry's Cafe Thursday night.

President K. C. Simons proposed the toast to the "Queen" then followed with words of greeting to the 60 members present.

"England and Shakespeare" was toasted by Rev. William Hills, who pointed out that though the English here are often criticized for maintaining "Old Country ties" "Canada is Canada today because of the British heritage."

"If Canada hopes to meet the exigencies of the future, she must have, beside her own peculiar aggressiveness, the distillation of the past, to which England has contributed," he added.

Major H. Cuthbert Holmes replied to the toast to the "Navy, Army and Air Force."

A member who is in his eighties, H. H. Hollins kept the gathering laughing with his comical piano stylings. Dr. and Mrs. T. H. Johns, who had each sung solos during the program, teamed up with Mrs. Dorothy Gough at the keyboard to render a duet as a finale.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Langley, W. H. Wilson, Dr. M. Murray and Mrs. C. Norman also assisted during the evening.

Truck's Tailgate Kills Man at Quesnel Plant

German Senate Votes Against Army Pact

BONN, Germany (BUP)—West Germany's senate (Bundesrat) voted today to delay decision on ratifying the European army pact until the nation's high court rules whether rearmament is constitutional.

The Wurttemberg Maneuver was considered a victory for the Socialist opposition to West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who favors quick approval of the pact, signed in Paris 11 months ago, which would put 500,000 Germans in the proposed army.

Adenauer warned in Hamburg last Tuesday night against further delay in making a final decision on the pact because this is a sensitive time in Russian-American relations and western policy depends on the success or failure of the European army idea.

Truck Overtakes, Catches Fire, Student Perishes

OSHAWA (CP)—Allan K. Mitchell, 17, a veterinary student from Saskatchewan, was fatally burned Thursday night when the panel truck in which he was riding went out of control, overturned and caught fire near here.

A fellow student, Murray Martin of Junete, Sask., was treated for burns to the hands. Mitchell was taken to hospital with severe burns. He died early today.

The youths were students at the Ontario Veterinary College, Guelph. Martin told police he managed to get out but couldn't free Mitchell for some time. He said he finally managed to pull him out through a window.

You can't go ALL-OUT

If you feel ALL-IN. These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "tired-out" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter.

Ice Rips Out Centre Span of B.C. Bridge

PRINCE GEORGE (BUP)—Alaska-bound traffic was piling up on the Hart highway today while engineers worked to complete a steel and concrete permanent bridge to replace a wooden structure washed out by an ice jam.

The centre span of the Parsnip River bridge near Prince George was carried away by a huge ice pack Thursday, seconds before the front wheels of a panel truck would have touched the section.

Temporary planking is being laid on the new bridge, but traffic is not expected to get under way again until next Tuesday at the earliest.

Traffic to Alberta, Dawson Creek and Alaska is cut off completely.

Phils Warn Brooks

Win Third in Row To Take NL Lead

By now at least Brooklyn Dodgers know that Steve O'Neill is serious when he claims his Phils can win the National League pennant.

You can't be much more convincing than Philadelphia was in winning three straight from the Dodgers. O'Neill maintained all spring the Dodgers could be beaten and that he had the team that could beat them.

Robin Roberts applied the clincher Thursday night, 6-1.

Pittsburgh comes into Philadelphia today and the Phils' manager has named Jim Konstanty to open against the Pirates.

The Phils have won four straight and moved into sole possession of first place with Thursday night's victory, a half-game ahead of the St. Louis Cardinals. In National League day games Chicago defeated Milwaukee 6-2 and Pittsburgh edged New York Giants 6-5.

YANKS EXTEND LEAD

New York Yankees whipped Boston Red Sox 6-3 and extended their American League lead to a full game over St. Louis Browns, who weren't scheduled. Philadelphia Athletics beat Washington 6-4. Detroit Tigers snapped a five-game losing streak by trimming Chicago White Sox 8-4. Cincinnati, St. Louis Cardinals and Cleveland also had the day off.

Brooklyn got to Roberts for nine hits, but the only one that paid off was Pee Wee Reese's first-inning home run. Stan Lopata homered, doubled and drove in three runs for the Phils. Granny Hamner also blasted a four-bagger off loser Johnny Podres.

MANTLE AGAIN

Mickey Mantle saved the day for the Yankees as he hit Ellis Kinder's first pitch into the right field stands at Yankee Stadium with two men on and two out in the last of the ninth inning. Gene Woodling of the Yankees had a perfect day with four singles.

Bobby Shantz won his first game this season as his teammates came from four runs behind to nip the Senators.

Gulley Was to Get His Later

Shown crossing the plate with the first home run of the WIL season at Athletic Park on opening night Thursday is manager Cec Garriott of the Tyees. Garriott whacked his two-run blow to deep right field in the second inning. Napoleon Gulley, left, Tyee right fielder, holds up the Tyee manager while Spokane catcher Bill Sheets waits in vain for the ball. Gulley duplicated Garriott's four-ply performance in the fifth as the Tyees whipped Spokane 8-4. (Times photo.)

Milk-Fed Bob Houbregs To Show Hook Shot Here

You can credit a coach's hunch and the common milk shake for having helped to make Bob Houbregs the all-American basketball star that he is.

The season before the one just past, Houbregs had a great year as the high-scoring bucketman for the University of Washington.

His hook shots were falling in the hoop with enough regularity to make coach Tippy Dye beam with pleasure. Houbregs' ball handling and passing were flawless and his checking was near perfect.

However, Dye found one small chink in Houbregs' armor—big as he was at six foot seven there were times when Houbregs was losing rebounds to heavier men who jostled him out of the way under the basket.

Dye surmised that Houbregs was slightly underweight and prescribed a rather unique weight producing diet. The answer was milk shakes—dozens of them.

Every spare minute between classes and basketball practices, Houbregs could be found in The Campus Malt Shop, knocking back one milk shake after another.

It could be surmised that, as Houbregs' weight increased, his fondness for milk shakes diminished. However, he stuck with the sweet and sticky diet, worked the snot created by the milk shakes into muscle, and now packs as much solid left on his little frame as most college grid linemen. No one jostles him out of the way now—unless they happen to be using a small bulldozer.

Houbregs—milk shake induced muscles and all—will be in Victoria in person tonight and Saturday night, and in him local fans can see just about the greatest hoop star on the North American continent today.

The big guy is the star attraction at a Seattle collegiate all-star team that features top men from the Washington and Seattle University varsity teams.

They will be meeting Victoria Kings tonight at Vic High gym at 9 and Saturday night at 8:30.

4 Red Wings Named To NL All-Star Team

MONTREAL (CP)—Four Detroit players dominate the National Hockey League all-star team for the third successive year and the make-up of the 1952-53 team, released by the NHL today, shows only one change from the 1951-52 line-up.

Centre Fleming Mackell of Boston was chosen for the first time. The 1951-52 choice was Elmer Lach of Montreal Canadiens. Mackell led the league's centres with 27 goals. Defenseman Red Kelly and winger Gordie Howe of Detroit were the only unanimous choices, with 90 points each.

Selections, with points bracketed:

FIRST TEAM
Goal, Terry Sawchuk, Detroit (69); defense, Red Kelly, Detroit (90), and Doug Harvey, Montreal (56); centre, Fleming Mackell, Boston (73); right wing, Gordie Howe, Detroit (90); left wing, Bert Lindsay, Detroit (88).

SECOND TEAM
Goal, Gerry McNeil, Montreal (57); defense, Bill Quackenbush, Boston (44), and Alex Delvecchio, Detroit (22); right wing, Maurice Richard, Montreal (52); left wing, Bert Olmstead, Montreal (26).

JOKERS PRACTICE SUNDAY
Jokers of the Senior "B" Lacrosse League will work out Sunday morning at 10:30 and Monday night at 6:30 at Stevenson Park.

BLADE LEAVES STAMPS; NEW ICE COACH SOUGHT
CALGARY (CP)—Calgary Stampeders of the Western Hockey League will have a new coach at the helm when they start training for 1953-54 activities in five short months.

Hank Blade, who took over the reins from Tommy Anderson shortly after the start of the 1951-52 campaign, will not be back with the club next season.

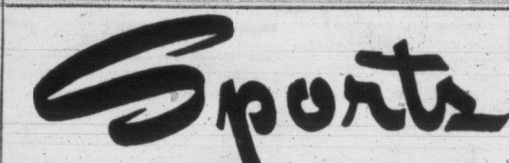

Committee members issued a statement saying Blade would not be available because "of pressure of business." Blade manages a midway show during the summer months.

Spokane and Tri-Cities, is at third.

In the outfield are Andy Skurski, Duff Lucky Vital, Verne Campbell and Janky Lou Vitous.

The pitching staff is being built around John Conant, formerly with Spokane, and Larry Manier, Jack Widner, Jim Ekenberry, just back from Korea; Paul Spurruck and Don Tisnerat, the last two being limited service players along with utility players Don Prentice and Fred Downing. Also signed is George Caster, a veteran of 14 years in the majors. He's a reliever and pitching coach.

VISITORS DOMINATE SPIEL

Three Rinks Still Unbeaten

Of the six previously undefeated rinks in Victoria's first bonspiel, three remained with clear slates after completion of the Quadra Street rink on Thursday night.

The victorious trio, Tom Coates of Vancouver, Dick Topping of Oliver, and Ron Harper of Duncan, have now posted seven straight victories and besides the championship events are in the running for Grand Aggregate honors.

Coates marked up victories over Toni Gutowski of Victoria, 10-8; Ross Menelly, also of Victoria, 8-6, and Dr. Stanley Avren of this city, 11-10, Thursday. Topping defeated C. S. Ferguson of Edmonton, 9-6; Eric Bullock of Victoria, 12-5, and Dick Pick of Victoria, 12-6, and Harper followed with wins over Dr. Avren, 9-7; Mac Torrie of Victoria, 10-3, and Ken Lawson of Victoria, 6-4.

Menelly joined the three undefeated teams in the semifinals of the Grand Challenge by downing Brock Wilson of Nanaimo, 10-7.

Three local rinks and one each from Calgary and Edmonton, along with Topping, Coates and Harper, qualified for the eighth of the Colist Challenge. Teams were C. S. Ferguson of Edmonton, Roy Partington of Calgary, and George Tucker, T. Eaton Co., and Cliff Cathro from Victoria.

CLOSE MATCH
Harper and Lawson played the closest match of the day. Harper winning 6-4. The two teams, definitely playing a knockout game, were tied at three-all after the sixth end.

In the seventh and eighth to lead, 5-3, Lawson counted one in the ninth to narrow the margin but Harper counted one again in the 10th to cop the match.

Highest scoring game of the bonspiel resulted in Gerald Burr of Princeton defeating C. Berezowski from Work Point Barracks, 21-14.

Junior Hoop Champs

MONTREAL (CP)—Winnipeg Light Infantry won the Dominion basketball championship for the fourth straight year Thursday night, defeating Montreal Hi-Aces 59-55 in the deciding game of the best-of-five series.

It was the second successive championship for the cadets. The Stellars won it for Winnipeg the two years previous.

Carter's Lightweight Title on Block Tonight

BOSTON (UP)—Brash young Tommy Collins, a product of Boston's teeming South End, keeps a date with destiny tonight when he seeks to seize the lightweight crown from Jimmy Carter of New York in a 15-round battle at Boston Garden—biggest fight in New England history.

Cocky and certain of his own prowess, the 23-year-old automobile salesman expected to end Carter's reign within "a round or two."

The negro champion, 29 years old and veteran of a gruelling climb to the throne, made no boasts except to say that he would win—maybe by a knockout and maybe over the full distance.

Beset by controversies over the title, television and future opponents, the youngsters were expected to draw a total of nearly $250,000 for the third largest cash sum ever involving lightweights. Only champion Benny Leonard and Lew Tendler in two fights some 30 years ago ever brought in more money.

With the weigh-in set for 2 p.m., Collins figured to tip the scales at around 132 pounds, Carter at about 134½. Neither was concerned about the weight nor the outcome, though both matters had been the subject of speculation for weeks.

Carter was favored at 10-7, on the basis of the fact he was champion and the fact that he usually fights as well as necessary to win.

TELEVISION SHOW
The bout will be nationally televised after a lengthy discussion.

Victoria Tyees 8, Spokane Indians 4

By BILL WALKER

Pitcher Bill Wisneski won more than an 8-4 victory over Spokane Indians Thursday night as the Tyees opened defense of the 1952 Western International League pennant at Athletic Park.

The chunky and willing right hander, who just could not seem to fit into the gilt-edged frame that encased last year's masterpiece of moundsmen, turned in as gully a performance as the 3,500 opening-night patrons would ever care to see.

First, he justified the faith that manager Cec Garriott always has shown in him by making the route in as severe a test any youngster who only went the distance once last year could have burdened on his husky shoulders.

Secondly, he won over a quietly critical throng by throwing two dangerous Spokane rallies when, for a time, it seemed that he must falter.

Thirdly, he cracked out a double and a single, drove in a run and scored one.

Besides, he held the Indians to seven hits. And though he walked seven, which acts of misconception caused him his grief, he was grimly the master when the going was the roughest, thanks probably, too, to the fine steady influence of the Tyees' new catcher, Sam Brusa.

Byrne, a fielder's choice and Halley's triple to deep right gave the Indians two runs. Halley scored on Jim Command's single.

It was then that a new crowd here, apparently, came to the fore.

Napoleon Gulley, attempting to emulate the feats of Granny Gladstone, just about did that, for the time being at least, when he smashed a terrific line drive over the centrefield wall scoring Taylor, who had walked, ahead of him as the Tyees jumped their lead to 7-4. Gulley received a tremendous ovation as he crossed the plate.

A following single by Ron Odekirk, who stole second, and Wisneski's double, settled the scoring for the night.

Leading 5-1, Wisneski bumped into his only real serious trouble in the fifth, although more was to threaten later.

A hit batter, a single by off last season—in first place. And the fellow nominated to keep them in their accustomed position of eminence tonight against the Indians is yet another lesser, but promising, light from last year's club, Bill Bottler.

Bottler, who won six and lost six in 1952, recently rejoined the club from Portland.

Saturday afternoon in the third game of the four-game series, Garriott plans to use right-hander Don Hopp with Victoria's own Berlyn Hodges getting his first pro assignment Saturday night.

Game time tonight is 7:30.

plastered it all over left field.

At least one Tyee rookie had a nervous tummy from opening night jitters.

Tyee trainer Jack Boag didn't get a chance to use his pain-killing anesthetic spray gun, his favorite weapon.

Right field continued to be the most charmed piece of turf in local turfdom.

Following in the steps of his right-field predecessors Peter Hughes, Charlie Balassi and Granny Gladstone, Nap Gulley found himself the target of early inning vocal bouquets.

And Nap made the fans' judgment look good in the fifth inning when he drilled a line shot over the centre-field barrier with one on. The drive was still on the rise when it cleared the fence. And thoughts went back to a training camp prediction Cec Garriott made in Sonoma—that Gulley "should hit 30 home runs this year."

Don Pries got the biggest hand when the Tyees, old and new, were introduced in the pre-game ceremonies. And "Ducky" made the season officially open when he sliced a bad bounce triple to right field. And ardent fans were heard to say, "Why I remember once when Pries hit one to left field... back in '51."

Fielding gem of the night occurred when Spokane second baseman Al Sahiberg galloped a mile and a half into short right field to flag down Wisneski's blooper.

Yep, it was opening night, and after seeing Wisneski toss 'em, Garriott and Gulley hit 'em and tasting one of the new and improved hot-dogs, most first-nighters went home with the impression that baseball is here to stay.

Home Run Power Blossoms

The Indians jumped out in front, 1-0, in the first inning. Will Halley doubling home Bob Byrne, who had walked.

Back came the Tyees in their half to take a 3-1 lead. Successive walks to Garriott and Gale Taylor and a pop-fly triple by Don Pries which escaped right fielder Byrne, accounted for two runs. Pries scoring on an error by shortstop Wilbur Johnson.

Wisneski singled to open the second and scored when Garriott hit an inside-the-park home run to his off field down the right field line.

Leading 5-1, Wisneski bumped into his only real serious trouble in the fifth, although more was to threaten later.

ON THE OUTDOOR FRONT

With ROY THORSEN

Jack Harmer, Port Alberni, and A. Norman, Qualicum, will represent Vancouver Island at the B.C. Game Convention at Chilliwack, May 27 to May 30.

If either one of them cannot attend S. Richards of Port Alberni will substitute.

They are the selections of the Affiliated Fish and Game Association of Vancouver Island, parent body of all clubs on the island.

"I don't know of any contentious problems we are going to bring up concerning the island so far," said Bruce Winsby, secretary of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association.

"The island body will meet in Nanaimo on the night of May 13 to determine what matters they want considered by the convention delegates," Winsby added.

We hear from good sources that Attorney-General Robert Bonner (of the Seaforth in the Italy fight in the last war) will attend the convention. He's the big boss of the operations of the game department.

A spot of continuous good weather is required to pick up trout fishing in lake and stream. It has been off-and-onish depending on the weather. We hear from Stan Williams that Lower Campbell Lake is offering fine fishing for the troller.

Jack Winters and son reeled in limits of trout in Shawigan last week-end, trolling flatfish. Anglers are also having success up there trolling flies with yellow or orange bodies.

Roger Monteith tested upper Cowichan River reaches Wednesday but couldn't get anything with the fly. "Lots of fish in the river and if we get some good weather the fishing should be wonderful," he said. Sunken flies are getting results.

Victoria Gun Club got off to a good start Sunday on its 1953 program of shoots at the Albert Head Road grounds. There was a big turnout of trap and skeet shooters, including squads from Duncan, Nanaimo and Courtenay.

First leg of the Colonist Cup for trap marksmen saw Victoria's Jack Roach and Duncan's Tom Garner break even with 49x50. They will shoot off at a later date. Monteith posted a 48. Dr. Jim Tassin of Duncan won the first leg of "B" Class of the C & C Taxi trophy doubles, his score 22x24. There will be an open shoot at the same grounds May 3 to give the clay pigeon potters a chance to brush up on their marksmanship for the Vancouver Island trap championship tournament in Nanaimo May 10.

While there are still lots of bluebacks in Saanich Inlet—pretty well scattered all over now—they weren't very luring this week. The catch picture tells that. Here are some of the more lucky anglers from Sunday on at Goldstream end:

Cec Fletcher, A. C. Anderson and Frank Thew, four springs, 18 blues; Fred Curie, nine blues; Poon Wong and Lorne Heglin, two springs, 14 and 12 pounds; Walter Thickett, eight blues; Mr. and Mrs. George Beale, 11 blues.

Frank Carr, one spring, nine blues; George Gilman and Jack Callow, 14 blues; Vic Holman, 8½-pound steelhead, two blues; Jack Klein, eight blues; Jim Lee, 12 and 6-pound springs, four blues; Curie again, nine blues; Bob McVie, six blues; P. Lunn, six blues; Jack Roach and Gordy Lamont, 14-pound spring, four smaller; Ivan Peetz, nine blues.

Just rambling: George Mann, after a month-long siege of sickness will shortly be back behind his barbering chair. George is up-island now having a little fun with trout.

Jack Grey, trying to lure trout on the fly at Prospect Lake this week, enjoyed a sight one would see once in a lifetime—22 wild swans came in for a landing. They'd been decoyed by a couple of swan residents of the lake. . . Amalgamated by Lower Island Sportsmen's Association will meet in the British Public Schools Club next Monday night at 8 to elect officers and make plans for future operations. . . Cowichan Fish and Game Association is backing the Victoria club's move to have the method of determining legal size steelhead from that of weight to length. Present minimum size steelie that can be taken is five pounds.

Cowichan body opposed the suggestion from the Alberni club that the annual steelhead be limited to 20 fish per license and that a punch card system be used to enforce the regulation. They also opposed the suggestion of placing insignias on game wardens' cars, as it was felt such markings would hinder the work of the wardens.

Granny Does It Again

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (AP)—Mrs. F. F. Small, 61-year-old golfing grandmother, drove for two more holes-in-one on the golf course at Invercargill Thursday, it was reported here. They were her eighth and ninth this year.

Mrs. Small, who has been clicking off her holes-in-one with amazing regularity, turned in her first Jan. 15. Since then it just keeps on happening.

Reports from Invercargill say Mrs. Small decided to give up golf for a while after turning in holes-in-one on three consecutive days early in April. She went off on a non-golfing vacation.

Betty Peatt Golf Winner

Promising Colwood swinger Betty Peatt, who surprised local golfing circles by winning the medal round of the recent Empress Golf Tournament, added another feather to her cap recently.

Miss Peatt defeated Mrs. V. Clunk 1 up in the final to win the Business Women's Association Tournament championship and the McKenna Cup at Colwood.

Mrs. D. Goldsmith won the consolation flight championship when she dented Mrs. M. Yeaton, 2 up.

International Ruckus Riles Mat Customers

Put a couple of Swedes and a couple of Frenchmen into a wrestling ring and things are bound to happen. And happen they did on the second half of promoter Ken Williamson's double main event at the Arena Thursday night.

Carl Engstrom and Axel Cadier of Sweden took the tag-team bout by disqualification after Parisien Tarzan Zimba and Paul DeGalle took a little too wrapped up in their work to suit the crowd of 1,500.

The ruckus started when Zimba threw Engstrom out of the ring. Carl got back to the apron but Tarzan grabbed him and tossed him into the post. While Engstrom was flat on his back counting birdies, the pair of villains applied a couple of double body slams to Cadier, finally pinning him.

At first the referee called the Frenchmen the winners but the crowd, which wouldn't let him leave the ring, forced him to change his decision in favor of the Swedish duo.

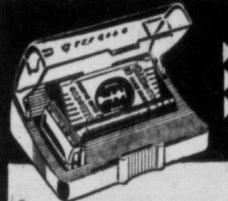

REVENGE IS SWEET
Dave Jones, the popular Englishman, avenged his disqualification of last week by taking the other half of the main event from Re Vagnone.

Jones captured the first fall before Vagnone had his robe off by rushing over into Red's corner and applying his favorite "backbreaker."

Bronco Lubisch decided Al Watkins in the special event, while Gurdas Singh took the nod from Tyke Myron in the opener.

SOME MUCH DONE FOR VICTORIA, BY TOO FEW

Greater Support by Businessmen Warranted by Chamber's Record

By E. McLEAN, Times Business Editor

A prophet is without honor in his own country. Like-wise, and unhappily, seems to be the case with the Victoria chamber of commerce.

How, otherwise, explain why only 633 of Greater Victoria's 2,000 industrialists and business-men are members of this strong right hand and backer of commercial advancement hereabouts?

Greater Victoria, with 115,000 population, is the centre of a sea-girt, harbor-spattered, resource-rich entity as big as the British Isles. Vancouver Island now is a midge compared to the U.K. mercantile colossus. But the day may not be far distant when Vancouver Island's mercantile and marine relationship to B.C.'s mainland will match United Kingdom's to the populated land-mass of western Europe.

As B.C.'s mainland becomes populated and developed, as Vancouver Island's harbors, valleys, resources, opportunities and communities come into full flower, so must Greater Victoria become a commercial enclave. Not necessarily a factory-ridden Midland, but definitely a major western Canada metropolis and marine centre.

Though geography has as-

Is Strong, Never Quiet Voice Every businessman, whatever the size of his enterprise, is better off today because Chamber of Commerce has made itself the strong, urgent, never-quiet voice of Greater Victoria and the Island.

Were there no Chamber of Commerce who could have acted effectively in Greater Victoria's interest in such things as dredging the harbor? providing long-storage areas for a fast-growing industry? opposing telephone and other rate increases? eliminating duplication of municipal services? stimulating industrial development and expansion, to create more and larger year-around pay cheques for Victorians?

All these goals have not been gained. Hundred per cent success comes to few men or organizations. But many have been attained, to the everlasting benefit of Greater Victoria's economy.

What is a Chamber of Commerce? It is a co-operative of business that tries to better every businessman's lot. Backed by its provincial and federal organizations, the local chamber has entree at all levels of government. It speaks authoritatively—and is listened to.

A chamber of commerce is only a hollow shell unless it has two things—membership numerically representative of its community and energetic self-denying leadership. Victoria has the latter but not the former. The membership roll of 633 names should be twice as big.

The small membership is the more shameful because of the high calibre of Victoria chamber of commerce's leadership. The businessmen here should be grateful to their best managers and entrepreneurs are on the chamber's directorate—they should show their gratefulness by an application for membership, with accompanying cheque.

This afternoon in Empress Hotel George H. Wheaton, busy, leading building contractor, took over the presidency handed with distinction and success for the last year by Tom Denny, busy, leading furniture store executive.

Mr. Wheaton was inducted, with all formality and due ceremony, by Mayor Claude L. Harrison. It is only proper the city's chief magistrate should officiate when the city's chief organization devoted to public service and community well-being began another big year in the long life stretching away back in 1863.

Like his predecessor, President Wheaton will have a million dollars worth of business and industry's top talent on his board of directors. Publisher Stuart Keate is vice-president. Department store general managers W. Gilmore and J. Courtney Haddock, lawyer George Gregory, transportation executive Arthur Dowell, tug and barge company president Harold Elworthy, paint company general manager W. Allan Penndry, hotel owner Max Zabel are the 1953 directors.

Few of Canada's great commercial firms could afford the salary-cheque needed to employ these men, as a group. Yet they—and another score of like calibre—give their time and high-priced talents to Victoria Chamber of Commerce's many activities for exactly nothing a year. With the competent help of managing-director George I. Warren, assistant secretary Hector L. Crombie and Cy Porter, President Wheaton and his directors constitute a managerial team unequalled on this Island.

This chamber of commerce leaders pile on top of their own business responsibilities the time-consuming—and sometimes aggravating—chores of public office. They do so for two reasons.

Firstly, they are community-minded; the prosperity and continued advancement of Greater Victoria are their desire. Secondly, they know from their own commercial experience that the individual firm flourishes only when all parts of the community are stable and strong.

Victoria C. of C. membership is only $25 per year. Where else could businessmen buy such service and talent at such a price?

Only 633 businessmen have taken advantage of this bargain. Another number, equally large, are limpets—they enjoy the benefits without helping even to the extent of a $25 tax-deductible cheque.

They are short-sighted. Worse, they may be weakening the chamber of commerce structure by the dry-rot of their indifference.

Impressive in 'Desdemona'

Shakespeare's most moving and enthralling tragedy, "Othello," presented by the Studio Theatre of Edmonton, will open Dominion Drama Festival Week in Victoria, May 4 to 9. Actress Rosemary Hood, seen here in the fateful role of Desdemona, won best actress award for her polished performance. The Edmonton players will be seen on Monday, May 4, and adjudication by Pierre Lefevre will follow. High commendation from regional adjudicator, John Allen, brought Edmonton the coveted bid to represent its province in the Victoria finals, on which the eyes of all theatre-conscious Canada will be trained.

FATHER HAD NO APPETITE THAT DAY

LATINA, Italy (Reuters)—Antonio Cappa, 25, was committed Thursday to a mental hospital for spicing his family's macaroni with rat poison two years ago. He was found unfit to plead to a charge of attempted murder and committed for at least eight years. When arrested, Cappa said "I wanted to kill my father. Unfortunately he had no appetite that day."

Manslaughter Case Set for Hearing In Saanich Court

Preliminary hearing of Gnr. Douglas K. Vannatter, 22, Toronto, of Gordon Head Army Camp, on a charge of manslaughter, was set for April 30 in Saanich police court Thursday.

Charge against Vannatter was laid following the army truck crash death of Gnr. Archibald M. Cowan, 23, of Elkhorn, Man., April 16. Gnr. Cowan was a passenger in a truck driven by accident which crashed off Gordon Head Road at Ruby Road. Vannatter's counsel is Jerry Cross.

Council OKs Sale of Lots To City Firm

Sale of three lots on Pleasant Street to Moore-Whittington Lumber Co. Ltd. for $12,000 was approved by city council on Thursday but not before the lands committee was roundly criticized.

The lands committee, under chairman Ald. Robert Macmillan, offered the property to the lumber company at the price. Subsequently the committee agreed to call for tenders. In the meantime, the city's offer to the lumber firm was publicized.

The lumber firm accepted. "The committee is not sure they know what they're doing," said Ald. Don Smith. "The matter has been handled in a very poor manner. It is no credit to the city or committee. Such a middle."

Ald. Frank Mulliner termed the committee's action unfair. Ald. Percy Scurrell a few days earlier had termed it unethical.

ETHICS NO BOTHER

"If we get an extra $10,000 for the citizens of Victoria, ethics don't bother me," said Ald. Macmillan. "We may have been unethical, but we're here to get the best for the citizens."

Ald. Brent Murdoch immediately jumped up and stated Ald. Macmillan was not speaking for him. He said the city of Victoria should employ "good business practices."

While the lands committee recommended the property be sold to Moore-Whittington, Ald. Macmillan advised council it did not have to approve. By a vote of 7-2 the recommendation was supported.

Three tenders received in reply to advertisements were returned unopened.

Offshore Oil Study Urged By Senator

Time Has Come to Tap Resources, Says Reid

OTTAWA (CP)—Senator Thomas Reid (L. British Columbia) says the time has come for Canada to consider the tapping of underwater oil resources within three miles of her shores.

Speaking Thursday in the Senate, he noted that American oil wells already are operating in United States territorial waters and suggested that Canada should begin to think of the same thing.

It was his opinion that the provinces could well claim they—and not the federal government—have the oil rights in those waters.

Senator Reid, a fisheries expert, raised the question of territorial waters in moving for approval of a treaty under which Canada, the U.S. and Japan agree to protect the salmon, halibut and herring fisheries in the north Pacific. It was given final approval.

He called this a marked advance because it was the first time such an agreement covering the deep sea outside territorial waters had even been consummated.

Principal speakers will be Percy George and Maj.-Gen. C. R. S. Stein, provincial director of civil defense.

The convention will conclude with the annual golf tournament, at Victoria Golf Club.

Two Children Die; Fed Poison by Their Mother

NEW YORK (AP)—A 21-year-old mother mixed rat poison in a pot of soup and deliberately spoon-fed the concoction to her three small children and then drank it herself, police said Thursday.

Two of the babies died. The third child and Mrs. Hilda Acevedo are in serious condition. The poison was administered Wednesday night. An hour later Mrs. Acevedo's husband, a 51-year-old building superintendent, returned home to find things apparently normal.

But during the night, he told police, his wife awakened him and told him what had happened. Police quoted Mrs. Acevedo as saying she was "despondent and disgusted" over the family's finances.

Sonia (the merry widow)—Margaret Hall

The brilliant, light, loveable music of Franz Lehar's operetta, familiar to three generations of theatre-goers, smartly paced and capably sung, obviously delighted a majority of the capacity audience at Thursday night's opening of the current Victoria Gilbert and Sullivan Operatic Society's production.

With everything one expects of a musical, in some measure—eye-appeal, ear-appeal and comedy—it is doubtful whether the demand for tickets will not considerably exceed the available supply. The "widow" herself is such a charming and lovely figure, in the person of Margaret Hall, that it requires no effort of the imagination at all to believe that every man on the stage is hypnotized by her.

First and foremost, she is an excellent actress with a flair for the style required by this sort of thing. In addition, she sings well, having a clear soprano and a wonderful sense of rhythm. Her "Villia" was most effective and the duet, "The Cavalier," with Del Rogers, one of the highlights of the show.

TOUCH OF GLAMOUR
Del Rogers is a newcomer to the society but it is hoped will come to be an "old-timer." His fresh lyric tenor voice is a distinct asset and he has in addition a pleasing stage personality which gave "Danilo" that touch of glamour so important to the romantic operetta.

There were many excellent individual performances in this production. Dave Stock, for example, his clowning which never got away from the picture; his fine voice; his white-gloved hands, a comedy in themselves, and above all, his kneecap act.

And there were also outstanding hits contributed by Bill Faby, an excellent characterization, and Pauline Barnett, one of the society's most capable singers and actresses, and Lance Whitaker.

A special word should be said of Nigel Martin, who made a small part into something truly delightful to watch, lithe and amusing. Another outstanding highlight was the Ukrainian dance performed by the Association of United Ukrainian Canadians senior dance group. Audience response would certainly have justified an encore. The authenticity of figures of the dance performed surely and skilfully, were most impressive. They were accompanied by their own guitarist and mandolin.

Other dances which were well executed included the famous waltz and the can-can. Chorus were good, and one unforgettable number was the amusing "Women," which drew an encore.

From the point of view of staging, there was a fault in the arrangement of lights in the first scene.

Eyes of the audience was dazzled by a too-bright hanging chandelier and brackets. The orchestra, under Melvin Knudsen, was particularly good last night. Col. Victor Mills was stage director and Velda Wille directed the dances other than the Ukrainian group. The show will be repeated tonight and tomorrow.

Bacon's Ghost Still Haunts Shakespeare

STRATFORD - ON - AVON, England (Reuters)—The ghost of Francis Bacon horned in an William Shakespeare's 389th birthday party.

While thousands of visitors and diplomats from all over the world gathered in the town hall here Thursday, a telegram addressed to the Bard arrived. It read: "Happy birthday, you old fraud. Signed, Francis."

A minority school of literary detectives claims that Bacon, philosopher-politician, wrote Shakespeare's plays.

PLAY SCHOOL PRACTICES

Lessons for Parents Featured

A post-lecture discussion group and display of play school practices will be added features to the child psychology course starting at Victoria College Evening Division April 23 at 8.

Prof. W. H. Gaddes who will give the series of five lectures on successive Tuesdays, will answer individual questions of those who wish to consult him after the lecture.

At the same time, in another room, Mrs. W. W. McGill of the Vancouver Island Play Group Association has arranged for a play school teacher to explain and discuss new teaching methods and devices.

"This opportunity should prove useful to a young mother who is faced with the responsibility of entertaining several small children on rainy days," commented Prof. R. T. Wallace, evening division director.

Prof. Gaddes' course, while intended primarily for parents, offers special opportunity for teachers of small children. Mr. Gaddes is a graduate in psychology from UBC and did postgraduate work in the field at Claremont College in California.

"Victoria is fortunate in having a man of the ability and training of Mr. Gaddes and the Registrations are coming in steadily and indications point to a well-attended class. Evening division officials urge per-

False Teeth Need A Special Cleanser

Don't Brush Your Plates! Soak Them in Polident As Dentists Suggest

Polident is the recommended way to clean dentures, banish Denture Breath. Just follow these easy rules.

1. Never use a brush on them! Your dental plates are much softer than natural teeth. Brushing wears down fitting ridges so they get loose.

2. Never use soap or toothpaste! They can leave film which collects bacteria and food particles, a major cause of offensive "Denture Breath".

3. Use a soaking-type cleanser made for false teeth only. . . . Polident! Polident cleanser is recommended by more dentists than any other. No brushing, no handling of soapy plates. Polident gets where a brush can't reach.

Best of all, Polident always leaves false teeth odor free. Get the world's largest selling denture cleanser, Polident, at your drug counter. (D-13)

A few hours before his arrest, Hilda Lillian Kasas, 32, pleaded guilty in police court to selling a capsule of heroin—the buyer being constable Gerry Howe of the RCMP, working as an undercover agent.

Council Backs Up on Coronation Service

The combined church service planned for May 31 in connection with the Coronation should be held under religious auspices and not the Canadian Legion, Ald. Waldo Skillings told City Council meeting Thursday.

Pontiac again gives dramatic proof of its ever-growing popularity! The passenger car registrations (obtained from sources subscribed to by the industry and considered to be reliable) show more Canadians chose Pontiac in 1952 than any other car produced by a competitive manufacturer. Pontiac easily won second place in the entire industry, with a marked lead.

Back of this latest record-breaking story of Pontiac's constantly mounting popularity are the hard facts of Pontiac's all 'round superiority in beauty, value, performance and consistently advanced engineering features.

different models in five great series—Pathfinder, Pathfinder Deluxe, Laurentian, Chieftain Special and Chieftain Deluxe. Pontiac offers you the flashing power and amazing economy of two famous high-compression engines—the Pontiac "6" and "8". Both incorporate numerous refinements for 1953 and the "6" now delivers 115 horsepower with synchromesh transmission and 118 horsepower with Powerglide or Hydra-Matic Automatic Transmissions.

No other car offers a range of features that includes dramatic new Dual-Streak styling, new Wide-Horizon vision with one piece curved windshield, increased roominess, luxurious color-keyed interiors, handsome panorama view instrument panel, new crank operated ventipanes and rugged body by Fisher. In addition, Pontiac offers you as optional equipment at extra cost, new, finer Powerglide or spectacular Dual Range Hydra-Matic Drive; new Power Steering; GM Shade-Lite Tinted Glass; the amazing Autronic Eye which automatically dims and brightens headlights.

No other car in the price range it brackets can compare with Pontiac for all 'round value and dependability. Truly, it's tops in everything but price! Visit your Pontiac dealer soon... see and drive one of these great cars for yourself. You too, like so many other Canadian motorists, will agree that "Dollar for Dollar, you can't beat Pontiac!"

Festival Recorded For CBC Broadcast

Documentary Show Cut for Canadian Radio Listeners

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

Biggest surprise so far in the second day of the Greater Victoria Musical Festival, was handed to the committee this morning when Bill Herbert, well-known CBC newscaster and commentator, walked in on school choir sessions at Metropolitan Church, complete with recording equipment.

Choir marshal Harry Bigsby took it in his stride, however. Equipment was set up quickly and complete recordings made of the choral folk song class and of the following adjudication by Burton Kurth, Vancouver adjudicator.

An hour-long documentary broadcast of Canadian musical festivals is to be made by CBC, Mr. Herbert explained. Recordings are being made at all festivals across Canada, and will be sent to Toronto where they will be edited.

Recording continued this afternoon and will be resumed next week, probably at the final concert Friday night.

EXCELLENT TRAINING

In adjudicating this morning's classes Mr. Kurth found ample evidence of excellent training and fine endeavor on the part of the youngsters.

"There is outstanding talent among the teachers," he said. "They show great sensitivity, a flair for interpretation and sound choral technique."

Today's results found Willows School topping the class for Grade Six choirs with 172 marks. Lampson Street Division Six, and South Park Division Five, were runners-up.

MARGARET JENKINS WINS

In the Grade Two class, Margaret Jenkins School gained high marks of 171, with Willows Division 11 and Oaklands Division 13 each one mark behind the other.

Folk songs, up to and including Grade Six, drew only two entries. Of these, St. Ann's Academy took first place with 86 marks. They were conducted by one of their members, Susan Nash, and young Sharon Collins was the skilful accompanist.

Elementary school choirs continued to hold the spotlight this afternoon.

Tonight a wind-up concert is scheduled in Metropolitan Church. The program will feature two contests, boys' choirs of grades seven, eight and nine, and girls' choirs in the same grades.

HONOR PERFORMANCES

In addition, a number of choirs selected by the adjudicator from the two days of competition will give honor performances.

A second survey of the two days revealed the fact that over 2,000 children have participated, not 500-odd as reported yesterday.

Another correction is noted: Monterey School placed among the first three in Grade One class Thursday morning.

Folk dancing will commence Saturday at the Victoria Badminton Hall, Amphion Street, at 1 p.m. Private and public schools will compete in several classes to be judged by Mrs. Peggy MacFarlane of Vancouver. A special folk and square dance display will take place in the evening in the same hall.

Helicopter Helps Warships on Trials

A Royal Canadian Air Force helicopter is working out this week with ships of the Pacific Command, Royal Canadian Navy, assisting them in obtaining radar fixes.

The "whirly-bird" hovers overhead at predetermined altitudes and positions, while ships' radars make adjustments to equipment.

The helicopter is used because it can maintain a fixed position in the air while the sensitive radar is tuned.

All radar-equipped navy ships at HMC Dockyard and HMCS Naden are working out with the aircraft. It will return to its base in Vancouver this week-end.

The report of the allergy sounds ridiculous," one baker said.

One citizen who used to be close to the bakery trade scoffed at the idea of the vitamins either helping or harming consumers.

"You might absorb enough in 50 years to do some good—or some harm," it was claimed. "There is very little used in the bread."

Price-tagging bargains in curios from the Far East is the last act of an adventure that took Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lee more than 10,000 air miles to Hong Kong and back recently. It was their first visit to the Oriental world. Hong Kong, they found, is one of the most beautiful cities of the world, but plagued by thieves, beggars and Red sympathizers.

PICKPOCKETS' PARADISE

Hong Kong Swarming With Nimble Thieves

By PETE LOUDON

Hong Kong would be a grand vacation spot for Canadians if it were just a little bit closer. That is the opinion of Henry and Ruby Lee, recently returned from that British outpost in the Far East.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee travelled there for a two and a half-month buying tour with Henry's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kim. The Lees have an important business here.

For the younger Lees, it was a great adventure. Canadian-born and educated, they were thrilled with every passing day, regretted only that they could not set foot on Red-bellied China to visit the resting place of their ancestors.

They had their first sampan ride to the floating restaurants across the island from Hong Kong proper at a very non-Caledonian place called Aberdeen. The pictures they brought back bore out their words about Hong Kong being a vacationer's paradise.

BIG COME-ON But the real come-on is the money exchange. When some one in Hong Kong says "... that will be twelve dollars," you divide by six ... pay two dollars Canadian!

This means you can engage a maid for as little as $5 a month, have your car dusted off every morning, washed and waxed weekly for only $2 a month. There are few dirty cars in Hong Kong.

Mr. Lee says you get free cigarettes with your haircut. Fifty cents pays for the clip, the tip and a face massage. A shave and shampoo are thrown in.

On the smallest work, every fingernail, every tooth, is precisely copied.

RED SYMPATHIES

The Lees were appalled at the open show of Communist sympathies when the two and a half million island dwellers celebrated Chinese New Year. Red flags were flown prominently from one bank building.

Everyone is registered with the government, though, says Mr. Lee. In an emergency, all undesirable could be rounded up within six hours, according to police. A British man-of-war stands by to evacuate British nationals.

The Lees brought home many beautiful art pieces for city homes, including furniture, exquisitely carved Buddha lamps, figurines and a host of other rare items. Every piece was haggled for.

Mr. Lee states that one of the reasons for the comparatively low prices of Chinese wood carving lies in the fact that much of it is done by children as part of their training. But that the old masters do the finishing is apparent as soon as the pieces are examined.

On the smallest work, every fingernail, every tooth, is precisely copied.

Other Vancouver Island essay prize winners were: Sheila Brown, North Saanich; Claudia Butler, Mount Newton; Anne Winnig, Courtenay; and Wanda Woznica, Qualicum.

in, and the barber, who wears a surgical mask, will also run an electric vibrator over your arms.

You still have to watch your pocket, not because of expenditures, but because of pickpockets with which the island abounds. Petty thievery is the reason upstairs apartments cost more than ground floor quarters. They are more "thief-proof." Similarly, the cost rises on upper stories as you go up. A nimble lot, the island under-world.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Feeling a little cornered today, soooooo—

Our Very Own Question Corner: A neat little pamphlet was distributed to Victoria voters this week by the Progressive Conservative party. On the cover, in large type, is posed this question:

"Who is Bob Patch? Art Chapman? Monty Drake?"

Never mind that. Just tell me, who are their writer?

Terrors of Geography Corner:

The post office weekly bulletin states:

"Similarity in Post Office Names: The Postmaster at Bluevale, Ont., reports that mail addressed to Jamestown, Ont., is being misdirected to a non-post office point served through his office. Jamestown Post Office, Ont., formerly Wawa, is served from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., daily via Algoma Central and Hudson Bay Railway. Care should be exercised in the sorting of mail for these two places."

Care, nothing.

You need radar.

Friends Who Have Gone Away Corner:

Rev. Cecil Swanson, DD, had not allowed the restraining influence of Toronto to dim his sense of humor. Writing in the St. Paul's Church bulletin, Rev. Swanson explains:

"As you may know, I have the honor of being prolocutor of the General Synod, which means chairman of the house of clergy and laity. Prolocutor is an awkward word. Some men, harking back to minstrel show days, call it 'interlocutor,' and many more, 'perlocutor.'"

"I always hope they do not think those who hold the office are dorks."

High Cost of Living Corner: A headline in the paper this week reported:

"TRUSTEES GROAN AT GARBAGE COST"

It's getting so a man doesn't know where his next pound of garbage is coming from.

PFF (Punch for Premier) Corner: G. Conway Parrott, the big bus and truck man, is the latest prominent citizen to throw his weight behind the dog Punch's drive for leadership of this province.

Mr. Conway says every businessman should support the PFF party, because Punch will never four foot the rights of free enterprise.

Little Bit of Old England Corner: I wish to express my sincere thanks to the many friends and well-wishers for their verbal expressions of sympathy, their cards, and especially the lovely flowers.

I expect to be up and around in a few days.

Appeal Court Won't Reduce Prison Term

Counsel Contends Client Scapegoat

B.C. Court of Appeal today dismissed an appeal made by Joseph McKenna, QC, for a sentence reduction for Walter James Gallagher, serving six months for theft of navy meat.

Mr. McKenna complained that Mr. Justice J. V. Clynne, in sentencing his client, had tried to make Gallagher "a scapegoat."

He referred to the judge's comment that "this business of stealing government property has got to stop" and "it is in the public interest this kind of pilfering be brought to an end."

Counsel argued that the judge should not have differentiated between stealing from the government and from an individual.

THREE MONTHS' TERM

He argued, too, that Leading Seaman William Gordon, who had been charged jointly in the case, but who pleaded guilty, had only been given three months. Mr. McKenna said Gordon had been the "ringleader" and his client "the helping type."

Mr. McKenna suggested a suspended sentence or at the most, three months, the same as Gordon.

The appeal court ordered that the six-month sentence date from the time of the sentence in assize court, March 25.

First Full Grain Load Poured From Elevator

First full shipload of barley from Ogden Point grain elevator since it was re-activated by Victoria Elevator Ltd. early this year will leave this port next week.

The shipment, between 9,000 and 10,000 tons, is consigned to South Korea, and will be carried by Ss. Psari, a Greek tramp. Psari is due in this evening, and the first barley will be poured Monday morning.

The grain is from the Canadian Prairies, shipped by rail to Port Mann, and thence to Ogden Point on the CNR boxcar ferry Canora.

Victoria's deep-sea docks are expected to be busy this week-end, with at least four ships in port by Sunday.

In addition to the barley ship, the following freighters are expected: Ss. Cape Sabie, due tonight to lift 325,000 feet of lumber for the United Kingdom. She will start work Saturday.

Ss. Hawaiian Logger, due for loading Sunday. She will take 325,000 feet for Honolulu.

Ss. Marna, expected Saturday or Sunday, to commence work Monday, lifting 275,000 for the United Kingdom.

In port today are Ss. Doxa, third Monrovia ship to work this port in recent weeks, and Ss. Alki P., Puertos Cortez, Honduras.

Doxa is scheduled to shift berth at 5 p.m., sailing to Tahiti where she will finish for sea and the U.S. Atlantic Seaboard, with a full cargo—about 5,000, 000 feet—of B.C. lumber. Of this total, 830,000 feet was lifted in Victoria.

Alki P. docked Thursday evening, and is lifting 600,000 feet for the U.K.

Dr. E. L. McNiven said here it was quite possible to raise a rash from the vitamin-rich bread.

NOT GOOD FOR ALL "It's mass treatment," he said. "Everyone is getting the same thing, and no two of us react in the same way to anything. What may be good for most is not always good for all."

One of the eastern cases of allergy manifested itself in small lumps on the back of the neck, and itchy spots.

Local bakers maintained that enrichment has been compulsory in Newfoundland since

Fit in Home-Sewn Frocks
Sure With Adjustable Form

By PENNY SAVER

For home-sewing enthusiasts there is a wonderful adjustable dress form on the market that makes good news because of its comparatively low price, $17.95. This model comes in four sizes, and will adjust to fit neck, shoulder, bust, waist, hips and length. As it is covered with flannel fabric, material can be pinned right onto the form. Light weight, for the base is made of cast aluminum. It is sturdy, too.

A good idea to bear in mind for showers and parties is the service which one of Victoria's leading stationers has available at all times. For a fee of $1.00 an evening it is possible to rent baskets, decorated in any number of colors and trimmed with ribbons and bows or paper flowers. A wishing well, a handsome blue swan, a "bon voyage" ship, or other style containers for guest-of-honor gifts.

Eliminate the torture that bedevils mother and child alike when it comes to shampooing the youngsters' hair by using a plastic shampoo tray, available now to use at home. This neat tray fits into any wash basin and the neck groove is made to fit any size, adult or child. Mother will enjoy it, too, for all the family will want to help do a professional job when she washes her hair. Price is $1.98.

Women who travel will appreciate the non-crushable wool skirts being shown at one of the local import shops. These skirts are tailored from French woolen material, come in plaid designs in predominantly wine, blue, or brown backgrounds, and are pleated all the way round. Excellent value at $19.95.

Some newly imported summer handbags are being shown now, most attractive in style and price (from 98 cents to $3.59). Mostly in white with colored designs they come in several shapes and sizes and can be matched in large and small for mother and daughter outfits. One very cute style is a navy blue and white lantern shape, and a round shopping bag with a zippered closing done in gay colors bears mentioning. Made of fine straw and string these bags should be easy to care for during the whole summer season.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Adequate Amount of Sleep
Helps in Gaining Weight

Q—"I am 16 years old, 5 feet 3 1/2 inches tall and weigh 118 pounds. My bust measures 36 inches, waist 25 1/2 inches and hips 32 1/2 inches. What is wrong with my figure?"

A—Your weight is perfect. Your bust and waist measurements are in proportion. Your hips are small. I wonder if you measured over the largest part of the hips. If not, then this is just a question of figure type. I am inclined to think that you maligned your hips a bit, although a definite figure type might work out this way.

Q—"Please tell me in your Friday Question Box if sleep is fattening. Some people say that it has nothing to do with gaining weight. I am 48 years old and sleep, on an average, 10 to 12 hours a night. I am putting on a lot of weight."

A—People differ in the amount of sleep they need. Usually those who are underweight are nervous and tense. Therefore, an adequate sleep allowance is helpful in gaining weight. However, it seems to me that 10 to 12 hours sleep a night for a person of your age may indicate the need of a physical check-up by your doctor. This is not necessarily so, but there are abnormal physical conditions which could cause this extreme need on your part. Ask your doctor.

Q—"Will you please tell me what to do for circles under the eyes and wrinkles at the corners? It is not from lack of sleep because I go to bed at about 9 o'clock every night, and it is not because of age, because I am only 16."

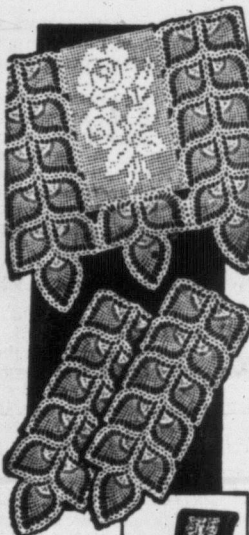

A—Are you eating correctly? Sometimes malnutrition causes circles. You should not have wrinkles at your age unless your skin is extremely dry or you have formed facial mannerisms which cause you to grimace. If your skin is dry, use an eye cream each night before you go to sleep. Watch your facial mannerisms.

Q—"My breasts are flabby from pregnancy. Is there any way I can build up the tissues?"

A—Exercises which develop the chest muscles will help.

Q—"I am a girl 13 years old. I am 5 feet 3 inches tall and weigh 85 pounds. A—You are a great deal underweight and I suggest that you ask your doctor to help you gain weight. Plenty of sleep, the correct food and mild outdoor exercise will help.

Plans for Addition to Victoria Nursing Home Blocked by Council

Ald. Margaret Christie protested to city council Thursday that every time she brought the Victoria Nursing Home project before them, something was "thrown in her way."

She asked that her health committee be given authority to approve plans for the proposed 104-bed addition, on behalf of council.

Mayor Claude Harrison opposed the motion and wanted the whole matter referred back to council.

"If we are going to be delayed any more, I don't know what we will do," said Ald. Christie, who has fought for the nursing home for the past three years.

PLANS APPROVED
Council was advised by F. E. Winslow, president of the Victoria Nursing Home Society, that both the provincial and federal governments had approved plans and hoped the city would give its approval as soon as possible.

Ald. Waldo Skillings backed Ald. Christie. He said the project had been under discussion by council for three years. A year ago, he said, council earmarked funds for the city's one-third share of the $450,000 nursing home.

He could see no point to referring the plans, already approved by provincial and federal governments who were paying one-third each, to council.

Aldermen, he said, did not have the technical knowledge to know if the plans were correct or not.

"Council should do nothing to impede the project now—it's on the records as a must."

At one time the mayor asked if there were not 24 nursing home beds unused at Colwood.

"Colwood yet has not got a license," replied Ald. Christie, apparently referring to a newly opened unit by the Sisters of the Love of Jesus.

MAY NEED VOTE
City Comptroller Dennis Young spoke of the need for a by-law by council and possible vote by the people.

"If this had to be done why was it not done before? Why wait until we are ready to call for tenders?" asked Ald. Christie.

The department of municipal affairs can give approval to turning over the money for the nursing home, without a vote of the people, council learned.

Ald. Frank Mulliner said there was no question but the city would get that approval, since the government is eager to have more nursing home accommodation.

Ald. Skillings said no alderman was competent to adjudicate plans.

"I'll not hear you on that again," snapped the mayor. "I rule you out of order."

Said Skillings wearily as he sat down: "Oh, you're going back to that old game."

Council upheld the mayor's stand and the matter was referred to the health committee who must report back to council. The mayor said he would call a special meeting to expedite the matter.

Men Who Log Olympic Hills Confer Here

For the eighth consecutive year, Victoria is playing host to the men who log the Olympic Peninsula of Washington.

About 300 members of the Olympic Logging Conference registered at the Empress Hotel Thursday, and business sessions opened at 1 p.m. The conference is made up of loggers and lumbermen from nearly all the firms, large and small, doing business on the peninsula.

Walter A. Kelly of Brinnon, Wash., chairman, opened the business sessions, and the principal speaker Thursday was J. Herbert Stone, regional forester of the United States Forest Service, Portland, Ore. Mr. Stone spoke on access road development in the national forests.

Arrangements for the conference were handled by Oliver Latvala, secretary-treasurer. Other officers and members of the conference's board of directors are:

Elmer Critchfield, Port Angeles; Olger Sandberg, Forks; Robert Cunningham, Sappho; Reid Priest, Sequim; William Haag, Forks; Petrus Pearson, Port Angeles; J. K. Lewis, Hoquiam; Carol Mercer, Shelton; and Gus Haley, Port Gamble.

The conference concludes with the annual banquet this evening.

Juno, the Roman goddess, was regarded as the protector of all women from birth to death.

Basal Metabolism Test Nothing to Fear

One of the most common special tests used in medicine today is the basal metabolism test. This column receives many questions concerning it from people who still seem a little nervous about taking the test. Its principal purpose is as an aid in studying the action of one of the glands of internal secretion known as the thyroid gland, which lies at the base of the neck.

The metabolism test is simple enough for the patient. After a good night's sleep one goes to the doctor's office, laboratory or hospital without eating anything. Then one lies down on a bed or cot and breathes normally through a tube. What is breathed in and out is measured and recorded. There is no danger of suffocating as some nervous people seem to fear. It is not hard on the heart, as Mrs. C. M. has asked.

The calculations are made afterward. The patient's height and weight must also be known. These figures are put together in a formula and the final calculation tells whether one is burning the body tissues too fast, too slowly, or about right. When the doctor gives the results he says the metabolism is plus or minus some figure.

The basal metabolism is only one method of testing for the activity of the thyroid gland or the presence of toxic goitre.

Ordinarily, a figure for the basal metabolism between minus 15 and plus 15 is considered about normal and as a general rule means that the body is burning its fuel about right. If the metabolism is much more than plus 15 one is probably using up food and tissues too fast and this may explain nervousness and loss of weight.

Most likely this is the result of a toxic goitre and medical or surgical treatment may be needed.

Driver Wins, Loses In Police Court

Motorist Franklin B. Adams, 1464 Begbie, won a dismissal on one charge in city police court Thursday but was fined $50 on another.

Because of conflicting evidence by Crown witnesses in a second car involved in an accident with Adams' car April 5 at Yates and Quadra, Magistrate Hall threw out a charge of careless driving against him. About $900 damage was done to vehicles.

However, Magistrate Hall imposed the $50 fine against Adams for driving a car while his license was under suspension.

Immigration Still Wanted

OTTAWA (CP)—Citizenship Minister Harris says the government is fully aware that Canada cannot fulfill her destiny with a population of 15,000,000, and plans to continue a wide program of immigration to acquire new citizens.

The minister, reviewing immigration as his estimates came before the Commons Thursday night, said Canada now is selecting immigrants on a very wide basis and the approach "will continue to be a realistic one with the development of our economy the guiding factor."

Sick Workers To Get Form Of Insurance

Measure To Go Before Parliament Next Week

OTTAWA (CP)—A limited form of unemployment insurance for sick workers will be put before Parliament next week.

The measure is expected to be the last major government bill introduced at the current session of parliament, now in its last stages.

It will provide unemployment insurance coverage for workers who become ill after being thrown out of jobs for other reasons. It will not cover those who leave work because of illness.

Existing legislation gives insurance benefits only to those unemployed who are available for work. A worker cannot collect benefits if, after being out of work, he becomes ill and cannot call at his unemployment insurance office to collect his cheque.

The enlargement of coverage it was understood, will not involve any increase in insurance contributions by employees and employers.

The present insurance fund will absorb the relatively minor additional drain. No official estimate of the extra amount was available, but it might run to about $5,000,000 a year, compared with the $130,000,000 paid out in benefits during the last fiscal year.

NO CHANGE

No change is contemplated, either, in the periods for which benefits are payable, which now run to a maximum of one year.

The proposed government action represents a compromise with organized labor, which has been pressing for straight unemployment insurance for sick, whether or not the worker becomes ill on the job.

The government regards this as verging on health insurance, which is being studied separately.

Howe Tells Of Trade Pact With Japan

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister Howe said Thursday in the Commons that convertibility of sterling is "some months or years away" but the United Kingdom is making steady progress toward that goal and Canada will do everything she can to speed her on her way.

At the same time, he told the House that Canada is working out a new trade agreement with Japan under "amicable and friendly" circumstances. The resulting pact, he said, will be of mutual benefit to the two countries and yet give adequate protection to Canadian manufacturers who fear Japanese competition.

He denied opposition charges that government policy has led to the loss of the British market for Canadian foodstuffs and that dependence on the United States market may lead Canadian agriculture to ruin.

Despite criticism by Social Credit members of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, he said the government plans to seek a further three-year renewal of the tariff-reducing pact this year.

CIVIL SERVICE CHOOSE VICTORIA FOR SESSION

Victoria will be the site June 22-24 of the first conference of the Civil Service Assembly of the United States and Canada to be held in B.C.

Representatives from western states, B.C. and Alberta will discuss ways of increasing efficiency through personnel administration.

Dr. H. M. Morrison, chairman of B.C.'s Civil Service Commission, is chairman of the host committee.

Films on Old Land

Films of Scotland, London and the continent of Europe will be shown next Wednesday night at 8 at the Business and Professional Women's Club, 904 Government Street, by James Marrs. The showing has been arranged by the Burns Club of Victoria.

Fish Industry Suffers From Cheap Pork Sales

OTTAWA (CP)—The Fisheries Council of Canada says Canada's state-controlled canned pork business is interfering with free-enterprise fish sales.

If the government wants to help the fishing industry find home markets, it should "get out of canned pork," council director H. W. Welch of Alton, N.B., said Thursday.

The question emerged as the Senate trade committee, discussing Canadian fish sales to North Atlantic countries.

The council executive told the committee also that:

The industry is deeply concerned over possible increased import restrictions by the United States against Canadian fish. The U.S. was Canada's biggest market and prospects of higher U.S. tariffs struck "great fear in our hearts."

Britain's imports of Canadian fish had been shrinking. She still was British Columbia's best market for canned salmon, but there was no assurance that further purchases by Britain would follow "in a normal pattern."

Gauges Show Severe Quake

NEW YORK (AP)—A severe earthquake struck Thursday in the southwest Pacific in the vicinity of New Britain, and sent seismograph needles dancing thousands of miles away.

The disturbance, described by one seismologist as a "rip-shorter," caused a tidal wave alert to be sounded in Hawaii, but the warning later was canceled.

There was no immediate report of the quake from the area involved, but the disturbance was recorded at several seismograph stations in the United States and Italy.

Illegitimate Children To Take Father's Name

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (UP).—Illegitimate children will be given the family names of their fathers under a new Argentine federal court ruling. Such children in the past have been given their mothers' names.

The ruling, announced Thursday, conforms with President Juan D. Peron's plan to end "discrimination between legitimate and illegitimate children."

It applies only to cases in which fathers acknowledge responsibility for illegitimate offspring.

EROSION PROBLEM

REGINA (CP).—The agriculture department reports that of 50 land-use surveys made in Saskatchewan since 1948, wind erosion was reported as a major agricultural problem by 35 municipalities. It said moderate to severe soil drifting has occurred almost every year in some areas.

PATRIOTIC GARDENS

LUTON, Eng. (CP).—So many residents of this Bedfordshire district planned "Coronation gardens" of red, white and blue flowers that Luton seed salesmen were soon sold out of seeds of the national colors.

Ottawa Refuses Action To Halt B.C. Iron Export

OTTAWA (CP).—After the "lashing" it took, the government will think twice about using the Emergency Powers Act, Trade Minister Howe indicated Thursday in the Commons.

He was replying to Howard Green (PC, Vancouver Quadra), who suggested that the government restrict exports of iron ore from British Columbia to Japan.

Mr. Green said the ore was being dug out by a United States company and shipped to Japan in Japanese ships. Canada got only about $7 a ton for the ore but paid between $150 and $200 a ton for the steel she bought back from Japan.

His great concern, said Mr. Green, is that if the operation is carried on indefinitely, there won't be enough iron ore to start a steel mill in B.C.

Mr. Howe said the B.C. government had the power to control its resources. The federal government only regulated on national affairs.

"I am afraid the only way we could do it (restrict exports) would be to use the Emergency Powers Act and after the lashing we took on that I would think..." said Mr. Howe.

"I am not suggesting that for one moment," Mr. Green interjected.

Two Liberals Wednesday voted with the opposition in a motion to censure the government for using the emergency powers to restrict movement of Canadian ships to the Red China coast by order-in-council.

The motion was defeated 136 to 61.

NATO to Meet Reds Halfway—Pearson

PARIS (Reuters) — L. B. Pearson, Canada's External Affairs Minister, said tonight the 14 North Atlantic Treaty members have all agreed to go half way to meet any genuine Soviet peace move.

Pearson told a press conference the NATO Council is not convinced that any such Soviet moves have appeared so far. But at the same time it did not want to condemn the latest Russian peace offensive as "meaning nothing."

CALGARY (CP)—A small stuffed buffalo, a gag gift made by Victoria to Calgary, will be passed along to No. 404 Maritime Squadron of the RCAF at Greenwood.

Mayor D. H. Mackay received the gift when it was flown from Victoria. He announced Friday it will be flown to its new home by Sqdn. Ldr. Peter Stanley, who is leaving Calgary soon to join his squadron at Greenwood.

The insignia of the Greenwood Squadron is a buffalo.

Immigrant Faces Murder Trial

FORT FRANCES, Ont. (CP)—Nulo Karjalainen, 33-year-old Finnish immigrant, today was committed for jury trial on a charge of murder in the shooting of Mrs. Kauko Tuusa, 28, at a pulpwood camp near Atikokan, Ont., April 7.

Karjalainen also was charged with murder in the death of Nesteri Ranninen, 31, who was shot while sitting near his cabin window a few minutes before the other slaying.

Nanaimo Man Held, Automatic Gun Taken

Police Probe Whether Weapon Was One Used in Hold-Up of Oak Bay Bank

Police this afternoon were investigating the possibility of a link between the arrest of an unidentified Nanaimo man in Vancouver earlier in the day and the hold-up of the Oak Bay branch of the Bank of Commerce last Friday.

A Thompson sub-machine gun was seized from the man who told police he got it from another man in Nanaimo who asked him "to get rid of it."

Leader of a trio of masked bandits who robbed the Oak Bay bank of $3,665 in a daylight hold-up was reported to have been carrying a Sten gun but it was not firmly identified as such.

Bank employees admitted "it could have been some other type of automatic weapon."

Oak Bay Police Chief Hugh Reston pointed out the bank people had little time to take careful note of the guns carried by the bandits. They were ordered to lie down on the floor immediately the trio entered the bank.

Vancouver Police Chief Walter Mulligan told The Times by long-distance telephone a check was being made on the possible link between the gun and the Oak Bay robbery.

"We are wondering about that angle, all right," he said.

The Vancouver department said the man who had the gun was from Nanaimo.

He was not identified because "we are still investigating the case."

A charge of illegal possession of the weapon was to be laid, however, they said.

Officers seized 350 rounds of ammunition with the gun.

HARRISON WILL SEEK SEAT IN LEGISLATURE

Churchill Gets Highest Order

British Prime Minister Knighted By Queen; Will Remain in Commons

LONDON (Reuters)—The Queen today conferred a knighthood on Prime Minister Churchill investing him with the insignia of the Garter.

The Order of the Garter is the highest of all the orders of knighthood.

The prime minister will be styled "Sir Winston Churchill, KG."

Churchill thus accepted an honor he declined when it was offered to him by the late King George VI in July, 1945.

At Windsor Castle the Queen formally touched Churchill on the shoulder with a golden sword as he knelt before her.

Churchill declined the honor in 1945 because it was an honor which had political attachments.

It was offered on the recommendation of Prime Minister Attlee whose Labor party had just won the post-war election.

But since 1946 the Garter has been bestowed by the sovereign without political advice, and Churchill now has found it possible to accept the honor in Coronation year.

The Order of the Garter, founded by King Edward III in 1348, is the highest order of British chivalry.

Headed by the Queen, the order includes the Duke of Edinburgh, the Duke of Windsor and the Duke of Gloucester, and 28 other members of royalty and nobility.

The fact that Churchill has received only a knighthood is taken to mean he wishes to remain a member of the House of Commons.

If he were raised to the peerage, he would have to sit in the House of Lords.

British prime ministers have sat in the Lords in the past, it is regarded as necessary these days to have a prime minister answerable to the Commons.

Churchill has said he would like to sit in the Lords, but he has not yet decided.

He said the number of Chinese "technical advisers" with the Vietnam forces had risen to about 7,000.

U.K. Paper Urges U.S. Beware Atrocity Tales

American Public Mind Being Poisoned? 'Who Would Try Whom for Crimes?' Mirror Asks

LONDON (Reuters)—The Daily Mirror says today the American public mind is being "poisoned" by hate propaganda arising from atrocity stories told by returning Allied prisoners of war in Korea.

Under the front-page headline "Atrocities or Bunk?" the newspaper appeals for moderation in the public outcry until atrocities have been checked.

"Angry politicians—no doubt themselves misled—are stirring the brew," an editorial says.

"We beg U.S. politicians to reflect upon the tragic harm that a slanging match could do."

The Mirror said that atrocities occur in every war but "cruelty has not been a system" in North Korean camps.

"U.S. politicians should understand," it said, "that they cannot lay down victor's terms. There is no victory. There is no unconditional surrender. Who would try whom for war crimes?"

"What is aimed at is peace by agreement. Hate propaganda can do nothing except perhaps prolong the fighting and bring about more atrocities."

Registration centres, which were not busy when they first opened last week, are now reporting more activity.

If the present trend continues, roughly 5,000 persons will have made themselves qualified to vote by the time the voters' list closes April 27.

It was learned they took this course on advice of top military authorities, who warned that wartime publicity on atrocities in the past usually has provoked more of the same.

There was some feeling that too much already had been said.

The House Rules Committee has been under pressure for some time to act on one of several pending resolutions to authorize a special investigation of Communist brutalities in Korea.

The requests were stepped up this week when fresh atrocity reports came from prisoners repatriated in the current exchange of sick and wounded.

Chairman Leo E. Allen (R., Ill.) has been hard pressed to fend off the requests, which have come both from House members and from 1,000 or more letter-writers. However, he said the committee, as of today, was standing firm against taking up the proposals.

Washington (UP)—Anxious Congressional leaders today were trying to hold the lid on proposed investigations of Korean atrocities for fear more loss of Allied lives would result.

To Run as Independent; Municipal Aid Program

By AILEEN CAMPBELL

Mayor Claude L. Harrison announced today he will be an independent candidate in Victoria at the forthcoming provincial election.

A new deal for municipal bodies will be a chief plank in the mayor's platform.

The Political Pot

Total of 3,500 Victorians have used the new registration centres to get their names on the provincial voters' list for the June 9 election.

Half of these are persons who have changed their address within the Greater Victoria area in the last year, and the remainder are people who have moved to the city from outside.

Registration centres, which were not busy when they first opened last week, are now reporting more activity. If the present trend continues, roughly 5,000 persons will have made themselves qualified to vote by the time the voters' list closes April 27.

Liberal leader Arthur Laing, a bitter enemy of coalition, didn't pull any punches at a Vancouver East meeting Wednesday night.

Said he: "In my view the coalition led to the deterioration and eventual death of our political philosophy and resulted in the Social Credit party filling the vacuum."

U.S. Secretly Aids French In Indo-China

Moves to Bolster Anti-Red Forces

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has secretly allocated more military aid to Indo-China in a move to bolster French and native forces now trying to stop a new Communist offensive.

Authoritative officials who disclosed this today said the extra money will go for more American "hardware" — guns, tanks, artillery, planes, ammunition and other military supplies.

The new funds will be turned over to the French and Indo-China states to help finance a French plan for creating 54 new commando battalions during this year to fight against Communists in all areas of Indo-China.

ARRANGED AT TALKS

This plan was outlined to President Eisenhower by French Premier Rene Mayer and his aides during top level talks here three weeks ago.

The specific amount of additional money involved was not disclosed, but officials said it was "substantial."

"With these new arms, which are of a superior type, the Vietnamese is becoming a more and more formidable foe."

He said the number of Chinese "technical advisers" with the Vietnamese forces had risen to about 7,000.

FRESH SETBACK

The general issued his statement as French forces suffered a fresh setback in their efforts to repel the rebel invasion of Laos.

The main landing field on the plain of Jara where a major battle was anticipated became water-logged today, hampering a vital part of the French defense system in central Laos.

The rebels were reported to have almost surrounded French positions on the plain.

HANOI, Indo-China (CP) — The French high command said today Communist China's military aid to Vietnamese rebels in Indo-China has more than doubled in the last two months.

Gen. Raoul Salan, commander-in-chief of French forces in Indo-China, said the Communists are pouring from 2,000 to 3,000 tons of military equipment a month into rebel bastions. Most automatic weapons, he said, are of Czech manufacture but the heavier ones bear Chinese characters.

Both sides now have agreed to deliver more prisoners than they first promised under the current exchange agreement. The U.N. proposal to continue the exchange for the duration of the war will test the truth or falsity of the Communists' claim that they now mean to return "all" sick and wounded prisoners in their hands.

Pte. Baker, the second Canadian soldier to be freed in the exchange, was a sick and wounded man—a haggard and weary soldier. He said he had spent the entire 17 months of captivity in Chinese hospitals for treatment to hand and foot wounds caused by mortars and grenades.

100 MORE SATURDAY

The Communists promised to return another 100 Allied PWs Saturday.

Forty Americans who passed through Freedom Village today told of the death of more than 743 Americans on forced marches or in prison camps in North Korea.

It brought to nearly 3,000 the total of UN prisoners reported dead as the result of Communist brutality.

New B.C. Hospital

OTTAWA (CP) — A federal grant of $345,000 will help build a hospital for mental patients with tuberculosis at Essondale, B.C. It was announced today. Construction of the 230-bed hospital is scheduled to begin in May and will take about 18 months to complete.

Caretaker Ed Pirie, who received a gashed forehead, said he believed the blaze started from a smouldering cigarette accidentally wrapped in garbage and thrown down the garbage chute leading into the basement.

The fire was out of control within 10 minutes after it was discovered. Bystanders told how Miss Dingwall first threw her bird cage from her third-floor apartment and then jumped herself, slamming into the pavement after glancing off the canvas.

2 Survivors Sighted at Plane Wreck

SEATTLE (AP) — Two survivors were sighted today after aerial searches found the wreckage of a missing C-46 transport plane from Florida on a Cascade mountain ridge.

Survival gear and food was being dropped to them while a ground party tried to get to the scene.

Four civilian airmen were aboard the plane when it vanished on a flight across the mountains to Seattle early Thursday to pick up soldiers arriving from the Far East. All four were Florida-based pilots for the airline, American Air Transport, Inc.

EGYPT READY TO PROCLAIM RELIGIOUS WAR

CAIRO, Egypt (UP) — Egypt's Premier Gen. Mohammed Naguib said Thursday night his nation is ready to proclaim a "jihad" (religious war or crusade) unless British forces leave the Suez canal zone.

"We will proclaim jihad if necessary for the sake of freedom and independence," Naguib said in an address to military trainees. "It is the duty of all citizens, regardless of age and sex, to be ready to sacrifice."

Truce Talks Start Delayed Until Sunday

Second Canadian PW Repatriated

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP) — The Communists returned another 100 Allied soldiers today, including Pte. Arthur J. Baker of Montreal, and the United Nations proposed that the exchange of ailing prisoners be continued until the Korean war ends.

At the request of the Communists, the resumption of full-scale armistice talks, scheduled for Saturday, was postponed until 1 p.m. Sunday.

BOTH SIDES AGREE

Both sides now have agreed to deliver more prisoners than they first promised under the current exchange agreement.

The U.N. proposal to continue the exchange for the duration of the war will test the truth or falsity of the Communists' claim that they now mean to return "all" sick and wounded prisoners in their hands.

Pte. Baker, the second Canadian soldier to be freed in the exchange, was a sick and wounded man—a haggard and weary soldier. He said he had spent the entire 17 months of captivity in Chinese hospitals for treatment to hand and foot wounds caused by mortars and grenades.

100 MORE SATURDAY

The Communists promised to return another 100 Allied PWs Saturday.

Forty Americans who passed through Freedom Village today told of the death of more than 743 Americans on forced marches or in prison camps in North Korea.

It brought to nearly 3,000 the total of UN prisoners reported dead as the result of Communist brutality.

New Municipal Deal Mayor's Chief Plank

By AILEEN CAMPBELL

Mayor Claude L. Harrison announced today he will be an independent candidate in Victoria at the forthcoming provincial election.

A new deal for municipal bodies will be a chief plank in the mayor's platform.

"Something has to be done for the municipalities—they are being impoverished by provincial and federal governments," Mayor Harrison stated.

"The municipalities must have the help they are entitled to. We cannot do the things we should do. We cannot keep the proper standard of Canadian life from a municipal point of view."

The mayor, whose name has been largely linked with the Social Credit movement here in past months, said Social Credit would get his full support "when it is right."

"I have given some study to the Social Credit financial structure but have not fathomed it yet," he said.

"However I see they are apparently moving in the right direction. Their legislation shows that. They are trying to help out the municipalities."

Feels He Knows City's Needs

The mayor's name, while widely mooted, did not come before the Sacred nominating conventions of Victoria, Oak Bay or Esquimalt, nor did he ask it to be. All have now named candidates for the June 9 election.

How the mayor's candidacy on an independent ticket might affect chances of the three Victoria Sacred candidates is a matter for conjecture.

Mayor Harrison has consistently stated he would run on the Sacred ticket if the government wanted his "help and asked for it."

He felt that he knows Victoria and its needs and might be of help to whatever party is elected to office.

At the same time, he insisted, it was not his place to "intrude" on the party, unless at the express invitation of members of the government. He is not a member of the SC party.

Publicly he has spoken favorably of the Sacred government. On several occasions he has stated flatly the government has not given "a fair chance" and should be given one.

"I affirm this now," he said today.

'Heavily Pressed' for Months

Mayor Harrison said he had been "heavily pressed for months to take this course."

"I feel in view of the people's wishes and my promises, I feel it is a positive duty that I place my name before the electorate. That being so I am not going to shirk that duty."

He referred to his first definite announcement that he would enter the provincial field many months ago at Sooke.

Always an enthusiastic backer of greater Vancouver Island, as well as Victoria, development, the mayor in his inaugural address urged his council colleagues to enter the provincial field, as a means of "helping out Victoria."

At a Chamber of Commerce installation ceremony in the Empress Hotel at noon he told

new officers "not to be afraid to deal with politics."

"A large part of our city's troubles today stem from the fact that they have not taken part in politics," the mayor said.

"The whole picture of the country's economy and development is linked together, like a great chain."

Discussing the financial plight of municipalities, the mayor said the federal government takes over 70 per cent of the tax revenues and the provincial government, 19.

Of a total budget of over $7,000,000, the city of Victoria has $4,698,000 in such uncontrollable items as education, costs, debt charges and wages, he said. The city council can control fully about 5 per cent of its total budget, he added.

Colorful, Cloaked Figure

Mayor Harrison, a colorful figure in his well-tailored suits and navy blue cloak with red satin lining, has been making news here since the day he announced his candidacy for the mayoralty August 25, 1951 on an "open door" policy at City Hall.

He was for 40 years city prosecutor, until his retirement Sept. 30. He was elected mayor December 13, 1951.

The fight he showed in his vigorous campaign for mayor when he beat out two other prominent Victorians—Dr. J. D. Hunter and Col. Aubrey Kent—has been displayed many times in Council chamber.

He has battled some of his aldermen to a verbal standstill on issues he felt were not being dealt with correctly or legally. "Is it legal," and "put it in writing" have become standard City Hall quips.

He and Ald. Waldo Skillings, long known as a municipal firebrand, have argued procedure and methods in some of the noisiest, desk-thumping, finger-pointing sessions in City Council history.

The mayor, however, never thumps his desk and he does not like his council to do so. Always, he is in complete control of himself, no matter how hot the argument.

If he feels he has taken the right stand for the city's good, no amount of council opposition will make him change it.

This was clearly shown early this year when the question of committee appointments burst into full-scale warfare at City Hall.

The council wanted the mayor to reverse his recommendations and give Ald. Margaret Christie, her old committee of health and welfare. The mayor said the committee was free to name its own chairman, that he merely recommended. He refused to make the reversal and the committee did.

DOCTOR GETS DRAMATIC RESULT IN DRUNK CURE

LONDON (BUP) — A British doctor tells a quick remedy for drunkenness. . . . He calls the results far more dramatic than he expected. Dr. V. P. Wordsworth — writing in the British Medical Journal—says he has used Vitamin B6 on patients with good results. He says that in one typical case a drunken woman was brought in who was singing and staggering. He says he injected the vitamin and that she became quiet in three minutes. Wordsworth says the woman apologized for her behavior and said she felt quite sober.

EXTRA CLUES PROVIDED FOR $125 CROSSWORD

Still looking for a winner in the Times crosswords contest, the judges today announced a slight modification in the rules.

Last week it was decided to allow facsimiles in unlimited numbers.

Under the new rules only 10 facsimiles will be allowed with each original entry.

But as a help to contestants the judges are printing the alternatives that may be used in reply to some of the tricky definitions. The problem is to study the fine shades of meaning in the definition to get the right answer.

Once again the judges are asking contestants to clip their entries along the dotted line of the form. This makes their job much easier in tallying.

Puzzle No. 5 appears on Page 7. It is worth $125.

CHEAP PUBLICITY FOR VICTORIA

City Council Defies Ottawa To Sue for Tax Payment

City Council voted 7-2 to take a chance on being sued by the federal government for $468 in back sales tax at a meeting Thursday.

Council rejected a finance committee motion that the debt owing on items the city manufactures for its own use be paid.

W. C. Haw, chief of the excise tax collection, department of national revenue, wrote the city the government would have to consider legal proceedings if the money owed since October was not paid.

The city has opposed the tax consistently and last fall advised the comptroller to forward returns but no money.

"It would be the cheapest publicity Victoria could get," argued Ald. Robert Macmillan, who felt any penalty would not exceed $100.

Ald. Don Smith opposed making "a political issue" of the matter and urged that it be handled in a "straightforward manner."

"The publicity we'd get would be cheap—too cheap for the capital city."

Ald. Waldo Skillings reminded council of the famed Boston tea party and said it was only through public pressure that an unjust tax was removed.

"Defer payment," he said. "Make an issue of it. Let the government take the hitting."

Ald. Frank Mulliner said the government would not sue but would merely deduct the money from some of the grants it gives to the city.

Ald. Arthur Dowell thought the city would "get headlines across Canada." A suit, he said, would embarrass the government, with a forthcoming federal election.

Ald. Smith did not favor the tax either, but said non-payment was "childish." He felt the city should try to get support for its stand from other cities and the mayors and municipalities federation.

"You, Mr. Mayor, and others want to keep politics out of the city hall . . .," said Ald. Smith.

Grinned the mayor: "I never said keep politics out of city hall."

Ald. Smith quickly withdrew his remark.
